ESTABLISHED 1846. NEWPORT, R. I., MONDAY, JANUARY 19, 1914. PRICE TWO CENTS.

THIS THE RANGE THAT DID IT.

One bundle of wood one filling of coal and in less than 30 minutes after the fire was started the thermometer in the oven registered 410 degrees. No knowing how much hotter it was, for that was as high as the thermometer would go. Biscuit for breakfast? Sure—20 minutes after the fire's started.

A CRAWFORD
NO OTHER COULD.

Range can boast of such a performance. The reason's plain—a Crawford wastes no heat, but carries all the heat that's made direct to the oven. You haven't a Crawford? Then you don't know what easy cooking means. Half a hod of coal a day, the right oven at the right moment any time and all the time. You simply fix the damper and the range does the rest. Today's a bully time to christen one.

FRESH ERUPTIONS OF SAKURA-JIMA VOLCANO.

Refugees Buried Under Falling Cliff in Near-by Village.

Disturbance Accompanied by Earthquakes and Subterranean Noises.

KAGOSHIMA, Japan, Jan. 19.—Fresh eruptions of the volcano of Sakura-Jima, which recently caused such widespread devastation, occurred today. They were accompanied by earthquakes and violent subterranean noises.

Three hundred refugees from Sakura were buried under a falling cliff in a neighboring village today. One hundred bodies have been recovered. This new disaster is a result of the volcanic eruption and earthquake which for a week have devastated the island of Sakura and made a wreck of this city. The eruptions and earthquakes continue, but with activity much subdued.

SLOWLY SINKING.

Lord Strathcona, High Commissioner of Canada, Will Not Recover.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Lord Strathcona, high commissioner for Canada, was slowly sinking at 5:30 o'clock this evening, according to the report of his physicians.

FATHER ON THE STAND.

[Special dispatch to the News.]

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 19.—The trial of the case against Charles B. Smith of Newport, for the shooting of William P. Egan at Easton's beach on the evening of July 4 last, was continued in the superior court before Judge Sweeney this morning, the defense introducing as witnesses George W. Triplett, James A. Collins, William K. B. Jackson, John F. Silvia, Monte Thomas Dr. A. Chase Sanford, Charles H. Tisdall and Albert Smith, the last named the accused's father. These testified largely as in the former trial, the first five describing the scenes at the beach before and after the shooting, and the next two as to the character of Smith.

The father was on the stand when the court took the usual noon recess. The defense will complete its evidence this afternoon or tomorrow morning and the state will then have an opportunity to put in evidence in rebuttal. It is expected that the case will go to the jury Wednesday.

GENERAL PICQUART DEAD.

Commander of Second French Army Corps Expires in Amiens.

AMIENS, France, Jan. 19.—General Marie Georges Picquart, commander of the Second French army corps, who was one of the most prominent figures in the Dreyfus case, died here today, aged 60 years. General Picquart, regarded as one of the most brilliant officers of the French army, was an Alsatian by birth and an exceptionally good linguist. The quality, together with his ability as a soldier, led to his appointment to the general staff. It was while serving there that Picquart discovered forgeries which had brought about the condemnation of Dreyfus to the horrors of Devil's island. Picquart thereafter became one of the most insistent advocates of a revision of the judgment of Dreyfus, and his zeal in this matter led to his arrest and imprisonment on various charges which were, however, dismissed for want of evidence.

In spite of the court's decision in his favor, however, he was retired from the service. During his retirement Picquart, aided by Emile Zola and others, continued to work in behalf of the men whom they were sure had been innocently condemned, and finally succeeded in having the case brought before another court-martial at Rennes, where, however, the influences against Dreyfus were so great that he was again convicted. Later Dreyfus obtained a full pardon from President Loubet.

This "pardon" did not satisfy Picquart and other supporters of Dreyfus whose efforts ultimately resulted in a verdict of acquittal from the French supreme court, and both Dreyfus and Picquart were restored to the active list of the French army. General Picquart afterward became minister of war and later commander of the second army corps which post he occupied until his death today.

INCOMPLETE AND UNBALANCED.

Brigadier General Mills Not Satisfied With Army Organization.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Conditions in the organization of the militia of the country are, on the whole, far from satisfactory in organization, in strength, and in training, according to Brigadier General A. L. Mills, chief of the division of militia affairs of the War Department, in his annual report today. The militia organization, in General Mills's opinion, is top heavy, incomplete and unbalanced, its strength is much below the important items necessary for field service, and training is on the average far below the standard required for efficiency in time of need.

General Mills declares, however, that despite a decrease in numerical strength in the militia the past year was one of distinct improvement. The loss in number has brought about increased efficiency. General Mills believes that this improvement may be made more certain by enactment of militia pay law, and he strongly urges federal and state co-operation.

Some of the states are severely criticised for failure to take proper care of government property.

For some unknown reason the department has failed to secure an increase in the coast artillery militia and it is suggested that the law be amended to permit the Secretary of War to allot the militia funds among the several arms of the service in proportion to the strength to which he considers they should be maintained.

ALL DELAWARE & HUDSON EMPLOYES WALK OUT.

Discharge of Two Men a Year Ago Sole Cause of the Strike.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 19.—Quietness characterized the walkout today of approximately 5,000 men employed by the Delaware & Hudson Railroad Company. The strike order, issued last night affects every union engineer, firemen, conductor, trainman and telegrapher at work along the line from Rouses Point, N. Y., to Wilkesbarre, Pa. Crews brought their trains to terminals, took their engines to round houses, and went to their homes to await the result of the conference between leaders and officials of the company. The conference was still in session at 8 o'clock. Mediation from both nation and state has been requested by the company.

G. W. Hanger of the federal board of mediation and conciliation telegraphed to Martin C. Carry, in charge of the strike, but Carry replied: "The die is cast. Only the concession we ask will bring about a settlement."

The men demand the re-instatement of two men who were discharged for alleged disobedience.

Only trains scheduled to leave terminals before 7:15 a. m. started their runs today. The telegraphers, including signal men, will leave their keys shortly before noon after disposition of every train is made.

The conference between union leaders and Superintendent J. A. McGrey, who acted in the absence of Mr. Sims, resulted in no agreement. Neither side would state what had been considered and no plans for another conference were given out.

The last train to arrive in Albany with a union crew reached here at 1:50 o'clock from Binghamton. By noon it was expected that not a train would be running on the entire system.

Cities north of Glen Falls and Rouses Point are the greatest sufferers from the strike. The Delaware & Hudson line is their only means of transportation. On this branch line are several state hospitals and Clinton prison. A rumor was current today that the railway might install double trolley service between here and Glen Falls.

Coal dealers said today that fears of a coal famine were unwarranted.

James M. Lynch, state commissioner of labor, was expected to arrive today. The discharge of two men a year ago is the sole cause of the strike. Their re-instatement and full payment of loss in wages is asked by the unions. The men were discharged for violations of company's rules, but union leaders aver that they acted under orders of superiors. At one time three other employes were out of the service for practically the same reason but they have been reinstated.

NO ATTEMPT TO RUN TRAINS.

Delaware & Hudson Tie-Up at Scranton Complete.

SCRANTON, Jan. 19.—The Delaware & Hudson Railroad tie-up today is complete. On the Pennsylvania division, from Nineveh, N. Y., to Wilkesbarre, 2200 men are out on strike. If any trains are run during the strike they will be those that carry the mails. No attempt will be made to move passenger trains. The strike will mean the shutting down of about 30 coal mines operated directly by the Delaware & Hudson Company in the Lackawanna and Wyoming valleys and upwards of 20 other operations whose product goes out over this rail road, in all affecting at least 9,000 men in the mines.

Charles E. Barr, acting general superintendent of the entire system, got here today for New York to meet President Loree, General Manager Sims and other officials of the company for a conference.

KEATING'S PETITION.

Seeks Democratic Caucus to Pass on Colorado Mine Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Undaunted by the action of the Democrats of the House rules committee in voting against reporting a rule to provide for Congressional investigation of the Colorado and Michigan mining strikes, Representative Keating of Colorado today circulated a petition for a Democratic caucus to pass on the question as a matter of party policy.

Supporting this attitude Representative Hill of Illinois has introduced a resolution directing the Speaker of the House to appoint a committee of five members to investigate conditions in Colorado to ascertain whether there has been an interference with the mails or with the immigration laws, and whether the mining operators have coerced the employes and combined in restraint of trade and imported fire arms and explosives.

ROAD'S TERMINAL TIED UP.

Delaware & Hudson Employes Near Binghamton Leave Work.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Jan. 19.—At 3:45 o'clock this morning 175 employes of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad company in this vicinity left their positions, tying up the terminal of the road. All efforts to operate trains from this end were abandoned and orders were given the ticket agent not to sell tickets.

ILLNESS OF MRS. I. T. BURDEN, JR.

Mrs. I. Townsend Burden, Jr., is so seriously ill at her home in New York following an operation for mastoiditis Saturday, that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Sheedy, have been summoned from their home in Denver. It is said that, while it is not expected that Mrs. Burden will die, her condition is such that it was thought best to have the young woman's parents at her bedside.

PROBATE COURT.

Exemplified Copy of the Will of J. Pierpont Morgan Ordered Filed.

In the probate court this morning an exemplified copy of the will and probate thereof of John Pierpont Morgan was ordered filed and recorded and letters testamentary on the estate in Rhode Island were granted to John Pierpont Morgan, Jr., of Glen Cove, Long Island; William Pierson Hamilton of Sterlington, Rockland county; Herbert L. Satterlee and Lewis Cass Ledyard of New York city, all of the state of New York. Personal estate will not exceed $500; bond $1,000, no surety required. William Paine Sheffield, agent in Rhode Island.

The petition of Edith Depew for adoption was granted and her name was changed to Edith Greaves.

There was a long hearing on the account with the estate of Patrick H. London, which was then referred to Saturday, January 24, at 10 o'clock, to which time also went the petition for probate of the will of Elizabeth Trager.

The first and final accounts of the administrator in Rhode Island on the estate of Betsy H. Steel and of the administrator on the estate of Richard T. Sharkey were continued to January; also, the hearing on the inventory of the estate of James E. Mauran.

Whitney's Gift to Milburn Thought to be Four Polo Ponies.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—When Devereux Milburn was married last month Harry Payne Whitney gave the peerless polo back several of his best ponies. Just how many ponies were included in the gift has not been learned, but it is presumed that the four are included which Milburn rode in the 1913 international match, and which he probably will use in the matches next June if he is a member of the American team.

Whitney, who owns about 25 polo ponies, will not give up his string but will keep the ponies ready so as to have them at hand if the cares to take part in any of the games for the championship cups at Narragansett Pier.

Polo ists are of the opinion that Foxhall Keene will be selected as a member of the cup team. The fact that he was appointed captain of the substitute team for the big four last June and the team was disrupted and the big four put in the saddle after Keene had broken his collar bone, gives color to the story that he will take part in the international matches this year. He has recovered from his injury and will start practice as soon as the preliminary games open.

A FRANKLIN MEMORIAL.

Historical Society Publishes Bulletin Containing His Cemeteries Paper.

The Newport Historical Society publishes a special bulletin in memory of ex-Mayor Robert Stillman Franklin, vice president of the society, who died October 8, 1913. The frontispiece is an excellent reproduction of a photograph of Mr Franklin and there is a brief sketch of his life. The main part of the Bulletin is a paper by Mr Franklin on "Newport Cemeteries," prepared and read in part by him August 15, 1911, and in part by the librarian of the society November 17, 1913. The paper is profusely illustrated from photographs of the various cemeteries and prominent monuments which were originally printed in the Newport Daily News seven years ago. With the illustrations it covers 41 pages of the Bulletin.

ACCIDENT TO THE THAYER SCHOOL HEATER.

While all the public schools escaped the recent cold snap without losing a single session, this morning Thayer school was not so fortunate. The heat was on and the rooms were all in fine condition, when something broke in the heating plant and the janitor reported that the heating was off for the day. The teachers were instructed to dismiss their schools when the temperature fell below 60. Repairs will be made so that school will keep as usual Tuesday.

THIS THE RANGE THAT DID IT.

One bundle of wood one filling of coal and in less than 30 minutes after the fire was started the thermometer in the oven registered 410 degrees. No knowing how much hotter it was, for that was as high as the thermometer would go. Biscuit for breakfast? Sure—20 minutes after the fire's started.

A CRAWFORD
NO OTHER COULD.

Range can boast of such a performance. The reason's plain—a Crawford wastes no heat, but carries all the heat that's made direct to the oven. You haven't a Crawford? Then you don't know what easy cooking means. Half a hod of coal a day, the right oven at the right moment any time and all the time. You simply fix the damper and the range does the rest. Today's a bully time to christen one.

Delaware & Hudson Tie-Up at Scranton Complete.

SCRANTON, Jan. 19.—The Delaware & Hudson Railroad tie-up today is complete. On the Pennsylvania division, from Nineveh, N. Y., to Wilkesbarre, 2260 men are out on strike. If any trains are run during the strike they will be those that carry the mails. No attempt will be made to move passenger trains. The strike will mean the shutting down of about 30 coal mines operated directly by the Delaware & Hudson Company in the Lackawanna and Wyoming valleys and upwards of 20 other operations whose product goes out over this railroad, in all affecting at least 9,000 men in the mines.

Charles E. Barr, acting general superintendent of the entire system, left here today for New York to meet President Loree, General Manager Sims and other officials of the company for a conference.

KEATING'S PETITION.

Seeks Democratic Caucus to Pass on Colorado Mine Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Jan 19—Undaunted by the action of the Democrats of the House rules committee in voting against reporting a rule to provide for Congressional investigation of the Colorado and Michigan mining strikes, Representative Keating of Colorado today circulated a petition for a Democratic caucus to pass on the question as a matter of party policy.

Supporting this attitude Representative Hill of Illinois has introduced a resolution directing the Speaker of the House to appoint a committee of five members to investigate conditions in Colorado to ascertain whether there has been an interference with the mails or with the immigration laws, and whether the mining operators have coerced the employes and combined in restraint of trade and imported fire arms and explosives.

ROAD'S TERMINAL TIED UP.

Delaware & Hudson Employes Near Binghamton Leave Work.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Jan. 19.—At 5:45 o'clock this morning 175 employes of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad company in this vicinity left their positions, tying up the terminal of the road. All efforts to operate trains from this end were abandoned and orders were given the ticket agent not to sell tickets.

ILLNESS OF MRS. I. T. BURDEN, JR.

Mrs. J. Townsend Burden, Jr., is so seriously ill at her home in New York, following an operation for mastoiditis Saturday, that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Sheedy, have been summoned from their home in Denver. It is said that, while it is not expected that Mrs. Burden will die, her condition is such that it was thought best to have the young woman's parents at her bedside.

PROBATE COURT.

Exemplified Copy of the Will of J. Pierpont Morgan Ordered Filed.

In the probate court this morning an exemplified copy of the will and probate thereof of John Pierpont Morgan was ordered filed and recorded and letters testamentary on the estate in Rhode Island were granted to John Pierpont Morgan, Jr., of Glen Cove, Long Island; William Pierson Hamilton of Sterlington, Rockland county; Herbert L. Satterlee and Lewis Cass Ledyard of New York city, all of the state of New York. Personal estate will not exceed $500; bond $1,000, no surety required. William Paine Sheffield, agent in Rhode Island.

The position of Edith Deprey for adoption was granted and her name was changed to Edith Greaves.

There was a long hearing on the account with the estate of Patrick R. Condon, which was then referred to Saturday, January 24, at 10 o'clock, at which time also went the petition for probate of the will of Elizabeth Trager.

The first and final accounts of the administrator in Rhode Island on the estate of Betsy H. Steel and of the administrator on the estate of Richard L. Sharkey were continued to January; also, the hearing on the inventory of the estate of James E. Mauran.

LEONARD—HAZARD.

Notable Members of Polo and Hunting Sets Witness Marriage at Long Island.

In the presence of a notable assembly of members of the Long Island polo and hunting sets, Miss Jessie Ashley Hazard was married Saturday to Mr. Charles Reginald Leonard at "Meadow Hall," the country place of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ayrault Hazard, at Cedarhurst, Long Island. Rev. Henry Dewey of Minneapolis, Minn., who was pastor of the Church of the Pilgrims in Brooklyn officiated. Among the 500 guests were members of polo clubs in several other sections of the country. Mr. Hazard, one of the foremost players, is secretary of the Polo Association.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin trimmed with old point lace, and carried lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a necklace of pearls, the gift of Mr. Leonard. Her chief attendants, her sisters, Mrs. Duncan Argyle Holmes and Mrs. Frederic Rhinelander Brown wore costumes of pale blue with lace tunics and large white hats trimmed with pink roses. Similar costumes were worn by the other attendants, Miss Katherine Hazard, aother sister, and Miss Florence Barton. All carried pink roses.

Mr. Edgar W. Leonard was best man. The ushers were Messrs. Griswold Lorillard, George T. Adee, Edward T. Larned Henry C. Beste, Rene M. La Montagne, Robert J. Leonard Dudley Leland, William A. Hazard Jr., and W. Tilden P. Hazard.

AN IDEAL ARMY HEAD.

Colonel Gorgas's Nomination for Surgeon General Peculiarly Fitting.

[New York Tribune.]

No dissenting voice will be raised against the President's nomination of Colonel Gorgas for surgeon general of the army. On the contrary, there will be general approval of an act of exemplary fitness. By his elimination of yellow fever from Panama, his great suppression of malarial diseases, his successful administrative control of a peculiarly delicate and difficult situation—in brief, his transformation, in spite of itself, of one of the worst plague spots into a healthy region—he has shown precisely the scientific skill and the executive efficiency which should make him an ideal head of the army's health department. So much for simple merit; while if ever any one has earned high promotion by fidelity in arduous toil and in reality and value of results he is the man.

Ten years ago the people of Panama were laughing at the burlesques of him and his work which were presented by festival maskers in the streets; though their fun was good natured and was mingled with serious recognition of the immense importance of his services. Today other nations throughout the world are envying us the possession of him, and are some of them soliciting the loan of his services to aid them in their battle with the ills to which the flesh is heir. It is well that he should be the object of appreciation in his own country and that opportunity should be given for the further utilization of his services here, to the widest extent and to the highest degree.

Nor should it be forgotten that Colonel Gorgas is not, after all, any unique phenomenon, but rather merely a distinguished example of the capacity, devotion and efficiency which abundantly mark that branch of the public service which too many foolishly and unjustly think of as intended merely for the slaughtering of mankind. His superb achievements—like those of his colleague, Colonel Goethals—are to be credited not only to his academic knowledge and professional skill, but also in a marked degree to his military training and methods. Not in spite of but because of the fact that they are soldiers have he and the others been able to do these great things at Panama. Indeed, we may doubt if these things would have been done at all, unless after much longer time and at much greater cost, if the army had not been set to do them.

AN ORCHID FOR RENT.

Old Custom of Bartering Real Estate Revived in Western Town.

A Western institution of learning received several weeks ago, from an admirer of its work a large plot of ground near its present home on which to extend the institution. The property is in one of the most valued sections of the little Western town, and had it been sold in the realty market it would have brought big prices as home sites. The school may [illegible] the land as long as the trustees will pay to the fee owner of the property an orchid on a certain day in the spring of each year. The year [illegible] the trustees overlook payment of the orchid the lease terminates. It is many years since real estate has been [illegible] for any such considerations.

When the country was young there were many such real estate deals. Farms would be leased for long periods on the payment of so many bushels of grain each year, or they would be sold for the skins of a few animals. Many valuable properties in New York city, where real estate is the highest priced in the world, were [illegible] bargained for a few skins. Money was not plentiful then, and all business was a matter of barter.

The mission house of Our Lady of the Rosary, on State street facing Battery Park, in New York, was leased for 11 years for a peppercorn to be paid each year on the feast of St. Michael. The lease not only covered [illegible] particular property, but many [illegible] to the north running into the [illegible] district.

Not more than two blocks from this [illegible] is a property that was sold for [illegible] beaver skins. This property is at [illegible] street with Coenties alley, which [illegible] with Coenties slip. According to what has come down to these times, it took longer to consummate [illegible] sale than a million-dollar deal today. It took nearly two months before an agreement was reached.

The rental of a corner in Boston's business district is paid on a lease in which pig iron is given as payment [illegible] year. The property is in [illegible] at the corner of [illegible] streets, which is a continuation of State street. About 50 years ago the owner of the property agreed to [illegible] instead of taking good [illegible] dollars for his rent he desired pig iron. At the time pig iron was a valued product and [illegible] had the better of the deal [illegible] time. So sure was he that pig iron would not lose its value that he [illegible] with a lease that [illegible] will not expire for several [illegible] years to come. Pig iron is no longer the high-priced material it was [illegible] it is getting cheaper every day, and eventually the lessee of the corner may find his lease a great bargain.

A clover each year is all that a school in Flint, Mich., pays for the land it stands on. This school is the Flint union school and was built about three years ago. The school board wanted a site for a new school. One of the wealthy men of the place heard of the desire and agreed to lease the board a site for a clover a year, to be paid in June. For such consideration the school may have the ground for 99 years and as long after as it is willing to pay a clover a year. The site was accepted and each year since a clover has been plucked from a garden set aside for the purpose and carried by the school trustees to the owner, who duly gives a receipt for town.

RASH ON HANDS ITCHED AND BURNED

Skin Cracked. Would Wake Scratching Them. Deep Cuts. Could Not Sleep. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured in Two Weeks.

Fifth St., Leominster, Mass.—"My hands began to itch, then the skin got thick and in some places cracked, and other parts water and matter would come out of. They itched at night so that I would wake up scratching them and could not stop until I would bring the blood. This of course made them a great deal worse. There were pimples on them and when I scratched there would water come out of them and then there was a rash and deep cuts on my hands. They itched and burned so much that I really did not know what I was doing. I could not sleep. Nobody can imagine what I suffered.

"I tried everything, but nothing seemed to help me. I decided to send for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they did me so much good I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. I washed my hands in hot water and Cuticura Soap at night and put the Cuticura Ointment on before going to bed and put an old white stocking on each hand. In two weeks I was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. Marie Lavoie, Jan. 16, 1913.

A single cake of Cuticura Soap (25c.) and box of Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are often sufficient when all else has failed. Sold throughout the world. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

RASH ON HANDS ITCHED AND BURNED

Skin Cracked, Would Wake Scratching Them. Deep Cuts. Could Not Sleep. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured in Two Weeks.

Fifth St., Leominster, Mass.—"My hands began to itch, then the skin got thick and in some places cracked, and other parts water and matter would come out of. They itched at night so that I would wake up scratching them and could not stop until I would bring the blood. This of course made them a great deal worse. There were pimples on them and when I scratched there would water come out of them and then there was a rash and deep cuts on my hands. They itched and burned so much that I really did not know what I was doing. I could not sleep. Nobody can imagine what I suffered.

"I tried everything, but nothing seemed to help me. I decided to send for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they did me so much good I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. I washed my hands in hot water and Cuticura Soap at night and put the Cuticura Ointment on before going to bed and put an old white stocking on each hand. In two weeks I was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. Marie Lavoie, Jan. 10, 1913.

A single cake of Cuticura Soap (25c.) and box of Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are often sufficient when all else has failed. Sold throughout the world. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

MRS. ROELKER MARRIED.

Widow of Late Summer Resident Now Mrs. Harold Perry Erskine.

Mrs. Coralie Coudert Roelker, widow of William G. Roelker, was married to Mr. Harold Perry Erskine Saturday at her New York home, 925 Park avenue, in the presence of relatives. The announcement of the wedding will come as a surprise to many who had not been informed of the engagement, although it was frequently rumored last summer in this city.

The bride is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Leonce F. Coudert, her father having been a brother of the late Frederic and Charles Coudert of the law firm of Coudert Bros. Mrs. Erskine before her marriage to Mr. Roelker was the wife of William Gould Brokaw, whom she divorced about 10 years ago. After her marriage to Mr. Roelker and until his death she spent the summers in Newport. She occupied the Flint cottage, "Maycroft," on Berkeley avenue last summer.

Mr. Erskine is an architect and a member of the firm of Hazard, Erskine & Blagden. He studied architecture in Paris, Greece and Rome, is an associate architect in the new Lord & Taylor Building, and is a member of the Beaux Arts Society and of the St. Anthony Club. Four years ago Mr. Erskine made an expedition into Africa, and some of the trophies from his game hunting are now in the Museum of Natural History.

Mr. and Mrs. Erskine left after the wedding for a Southern trip and on their return will be at 925 Park avenue.

NAVAL ORDERS AND MOVEMENTS.

Lieutenant A. A. Garcelon, Jr., detached from the navy yard, Norfolk, and ordered to duty on the staff of the commander-in-chief of the Pacific reserve fleet.

Lieutenant B. H. Green and Lieutenant (junior grade,) J. C. Jennings, detached from the Washington and ordered to the Rainbow.

Ensign H. R. Helm, detached from the Michigan and ordered to the Ozark.

Passed Assistant Surgeon B. H. Dorsey, detached from Camp Elliott, Canal Zone, and ordered to the Connecticut.

Chief Machinist D. W. Barry, detached from the New Jersey and ordered to the Tennessee.

Machinist W. W. Miller, detached from the Tennessee and ordered to the New Jersey.

The following movements of vessels are reported:

Arrived—Montana at Guacanaybo, Denver at San Francisco, Nashville at Port au Prince, Ohio at Phuanerthia, Hannibal at Guantanamo, Whipple and Perry at San Diego, San Francisco, Patapsco and Pawtuxent at Culebra, Tonapah, D-1, D-2, D-3, E-1, and E-2 at Brunswick, Ga.

PERSONALS.

...It is understood that Queen Mary of England has expressed sentiments ordering upon the angry because certain ladies extremely well known in court circles insist on frequenting night clubs under assumed names. The queen has now very decidedly and pointedly said that she no longer desires the acquaintance of these ladies unless they entirely drop their early morning hour resort habits.

...Harry M. Gescheidt, a Manhattan lawyer, left a will by which his widow, Katherine Peck Gescheidt, receives but $25,000 of the $300,000 estate. Trinity Church Corporation receives a bequest of $150,000 for the establishment of a bread line. Should Trinity refuse to accept the bequest part of the money is to go to the Five Points House of Industry, to be used as it sees fit, the remainder to be distributed among several hospitals. Gescheidt provided that his name was to be stamped on every loaf of bread given out.

...With his nervous system shattered as a result of Black Hand Threats, Ignace Paderewski, the Polish pianist, is en route to Los Angeles from Portland Ore. He has cancelled all Pacific Coast engagements and will rest in a secluded bungalow until he regains control of himself. Paderewski saw huge posters in the Municipal hall in Denver three weeks ago, where he had an engagement, stating that unless he paid over a large sum to the Black Hand society he would be killed. The pianist filled his contract for that night, but afterward collapsed.

...Richard T. Colburn, who in his earlier life was a correspondent in the Civil war for a New York newspaper and later went into the banking business in New York, becoming a director in several of the pioneer railways in the country, left in his will an annuity of $1,200 to his wife. Mr. Colburn explained this provision as follows: "In order not to encourage or tempt her to unsound investments, speculations or lures of promoters, fortune hunters, charlatans or parasites this allowance is strictly limited on good and sufficient reasons. A liberal scale of expenditure is my intention."

...Miss Margaret Quayle, daughter of Bishop William A. Quayle of the Methodist Episcopal Church, is receiving the radium treatment for cancer at a sanatorium in Baltimore.

...Professor William H. Taft, of Yale is dissatisfied with the tax of 13 mills levied upon his automobile by the New Haven assessors who rated his car as worth $4,500. To this 10 per cent is added for failure to appear within the required time and also to his tax list. This brought the total up to $4,455. In a letter to the assessors Mr Taft informed them that he purchased the car second hand, having only $2,000 for it, and fails to understand how they can rate it at so much.

New York city has 24 members of the lower branch of Congress, a larger delegation than any state can boast except New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois.

SPEECHLESSNESS.

[Anna Burnham Bryant.]

They prate of pain whose joys but intermit;
Or grief—who wear it for adornment!
Deep
As soundless gulfs of seas enternal, sleep
Those dumb, unmeasured woes no speech can fit.
Hast seen, on wreck-strewn beaches, morning-lit,
The shallow waves foam up the sand, then creep
Forgetful through the grasses?—ye that weep!
On your white lips I see strong silence sit.
The hero heart that neither shouts nor whines,
With dumb excess of feeling breaks unheard;
They know the least of love who wear its signs
In all men's sight, profaning that high word.
Emotion has her temples and her shrines,
Wherein no tumult is—the air unstirred.

JURORS FIND INDICTMENTS.

White Slave Film Favored by New York Social Workers.

Three indictments have been found against those involved in the production of the film play, "The Inside of the White Slave Traffic" in New York. The charge was giving an indecent theatrical performance. This action was taken after the jurors had witnessed a private performance of the films and was taken in spite of social workers, who spoke in favor of the films. Among those who favored the films were Mrs. Inez Milholland Boissevain, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont and Frederic H. Robinson, president of the sociological fund of "The Medical Review of Reviews," which has taken up the defense of the films.

Scalloped Ham and Potatoes.

Put through the chopper enough cold boiled ham to give one cupful and a half. Cut six large boiled potatoes in thin slices. In a saucepan mix together two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour, a scant teaspoonful of salt and one-third teaspoonful of white pepper. When bubbling, stir in gradually one pint of hot milk and cook until smoothly thickened. In a buttered dish put alternate layers of potato, ham and sauce until all are used. With a half-cupful of stale bread crumbs, mix one tablespoonful of melted butter, spread over the top and bake in a quick oven until browned.

Macaroon Sundae.

Make a boiled custard with one cupful and a half of milk, three eggs, a pinch of salt and one scant cupful of sugar; strain and cool. Add one pint of rich cream, five drops of almond extract, two teaspoonfuls vanilla and one cupful stale fine macaroon crumbs. Freeze and let stand packed for at least two hours. In the meantime have ready one pint of thick whipped cream, some halved pecan nut meats and a maple sauce made by warming slightly a scant pint of maple syrup, adding six tablespoonfuls of rich cream, mixing thoroughly, then chilling on ice. To serve half fill glasses with the frozen cream, add a spoonful or two of whipped cream, garnish with some nut meats and pour a little sauce round the base.

The first electric car to be run on a track was exhibited 66 years ago in the town hall in Dover, N. H., by its inventor, Moses G. Farmer. The track was two feet and a half wide and carried a car large enough to hold several people.

PLENTY OF PROOF

From People You Know—From Newport Citizens.

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced in the face of evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of Newport, of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case of it:

Mrs. Annie E. Hall, 15 Marsh St., Newport, R. I., says: "I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Wright & Hay's Drug Store for one of the family who complained for a long time of a nagging pain in his back and right hip. It bothered him when he was working and at night made him very nervous. Mornings, when he got up he was tired, too. His back was so lame and painful that it was hard for him to straighten. Doan's Kidney Pills were just what he needed and they made a great improvement in every way. I have just as much faith in Doan's Kidney Pills now, as I did when I publicly recommended them some years ago. We keep them in the house and use them whenever we need a kidney medicine."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Lieutenant A. A. Garcelon, Jr., detached from the navy yard, Norfolk, and ordered to duty on the staff of the commander-in-chief of the Pacific reserve fleet.

Lieutenant C. A. Richards, ordered to temporary duty on the receiving ship at Norfolk.

Lieutenant B. H. Green and Lieutenant (junior grade) J. C. Jennings, detached from the Washington and ordered to the Rainbow.

Ensign H. R. Holm, detached from the Michigan and ordered to the Ozark.

Passed Assistant Surgeon B. H. Dorsey, detached from Camp Elliott, Canal Zone, and ordered to the Connecticut.

Chief Machinist D. W. Barry, detached from the New Jersey and ordered to the Tennessee.

Machinist W. W. Miller, detached from the Tennessee and ordered to the New Jersey.

The following movements of vessels are reported:

Arrived—Montana at Guacanayabo, Denver at San Francisco, Nashville at Port au Prince, Ohio at Philadelphia, Hannibal at Guantanamo, Whipple and Perry at San Diego, San Francisco, Patapsco and Pawtuxent at Culebra, Tonapah, D-1, D-2, D-3, E-1 and E-2 at Brunswick, Ga.

PERSONALS.

...It is understood that Queen Mary of England has expressed sentiments ordering upon the angry because certain ladies extremely well known in court circles insist on frequenting night clubs under assumed names. The queen has now very decidedly and pointedly said that she no longer desires the acquaintance of these ladies unless they entirely drop their early morning hour resort habits.

...Harry M. Gescheidt, a Manhattan lawyer, left a will by which his widow, Katherine Peck Gescheidt, receives but $25,000 of the $800,000 estate. Trinity Church Corporation receives a bequest of $150,000 for the establishment of a bread line. Should Trinity refuse to accept the bequest part of the money is to go to the Five Points House of Industry, to be used as it sees fit, the remainder to be distributed among several hospitals. Gescheidt provided that his name was to be stamped on every loaf of bread given out.

...With his nervous system shattered as a result of Black Hand Threats, Ignace Paderewski, the Polish pianist, is en route to Los Angeles from Portland, Ore. He has cancelled all Pacific Coast engagements and will rest in a secluded bungalow until he regains control of himself. Paderewski saw huge posters in the Municipal hall in Denver three weeks ago, where he had an engagement, saying that unless he paid over a large sum to the Black Hand society he would be killed. The pianist filled his contract for that night, but afterward collapsed.

...Richard T. Colburn, who in his earlier life was a correspondent in the Civil war for a New York newspaper and later went into the banking business in New York, becoming a director in several of the pioneer railroads in the country, left in his will an annuity of $1,200 to his wife. Mr. Colburn explained this provision as follows: "In order not to encourage or tempt her to unsound investments, speculations or lures of promoters, fortune hunters, charlatans or parasites this allowance is strictly limited for good and sufficient reasons. A modest scale of expenditure is my injunction."

...Miss Margaret Quayle, daughter of Bishop William A. Quayle of the Methodist Episcopal Church, is receiving the radium treatment for cancer at a sanatorium in Baltimore.

...Professor William H. Taft, of Yale is dissatisfied with the tax of 19 mills levied upon his automobile by the New Haven assessors, who rated his machine as worth $4,500. To this 10 per cent is added for failure to appear within the required time and swear to his tax list. This brought the total up to $4,950. In a letter to the assessors Mr Taft informed them that he purchased the car second hand, having only $2,000 for it, and fails to understand how they can rate it at $4,950.

New York city has 24 members of the lower branch of Congress, a larger delegation than any state can boast except New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois.

SPEECHLESSNESS.

[Anna Burnham Bryant.]

They prate of pain whose joys but intermit;
Or grief—who wear it for adornment! Deep
As soundless gulfs of seas enternal, sleep
Those dumb, unmeasured woes no speech can fit.
Hast seen, oh wreck-strewn beaches, morning-lit,
The shallow waves foam up the sand, then creep
Forgetful through the grasses?—ye that weep!
On your white lips I see strong silence sit.
The hero heart that neither shouts nor whines,
With dumb excess of feeling breaks unheard;
They know the least of love who wear its signs
In all men's sight, profaning that high word.
Emotion has her temples and her shrines,
Wherein no tumult is—the air unstirred.

FANCIES.

Little Bo Peep
Has lost her sleep
At turkey-trots and tangos,
From 5 to 6
She does the Maxixe
And other swell fandangos.

JURORS FIND INDICTMENTS.

White Slave Film Favored by New York Social Workers.

Three indictments have been found against those involved in the production of the film play, "The Inside of the White Slave Traffic" in New York. The charge was giving an indecent theatrical performance. This action was taken after the jurors had witnessed a private performance of the films and was taken in spite of social workers, who spoke in favor of the films. Among those who favored the films were Mrs. Inez Milholland Boissevain, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont and Frederic H. Robinson, president of the sociological fund of "The Medical Review of Reviews," which has taken up the defense of the films.

Scalloped Ham and Potatoes.

Put through the chopper enough cold boiled ham to give one cupful and a half. Cut six large boiled potatoes in thin slices. In a saucepan mix together two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour, a scant teaspoonful of salt and one-third teaspoonful of white pepper. When bubbling, stir in gradually one pint of hot milk and cook until smoothly thickened. In a buttered dish put alternate layers of potato, ham and sauce until all are used. With a half-cupful of stale bread crumbs, mix one tablespoonful of melted butter, spread over the top and bake in a quick oven until browned.

Macaroon Sundae.

Make a boiled custard with one cupful and a half of milk, three eggs, a pinch of salt and one scant cupful of sugar; strain and cool. Add one pint of rich cream, five drops of almond extract, two teaspoonfuls vanilla and one cupful stale fine macaroon crumbs. Freeze and let stand packed for at least two hours. In the meantime have ready one pint of thick whipped cream, some halved pecan nut meats and a maple sauce made by warming slightly a scant pint of maple syrup, adding six tablespoonfuls of rich cream, mixing thoroughly, then chilling on ice. To serve half fill glasses with the frozen cream, add a spoonful or two of whipped cream, garnish with some nut meats and pour a little sauce round the base.

The first electric car to be run on a track was exhibited 55 years ago in the town hall in Dover, N. H., by its inventor, Moses G. Farmer. The track was two feet and a half wide and carried a car large enough to hold several people.

PLENTY OF PROOF

From People You Know—From Newport Citizens.

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced in the face of evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of Newport, of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case of it:

Mrs. Annie E. Hall, 15 Marsh St., Newport, R. I., says: "I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Wright & Hay's Drug Store for one of the family who complained for a long time of a nagging pain in his back and right hip. It bothered him when he was working and at night made him very nervous. Mornings, when he got up he was tired, too. His back was so lame and painful that it was hard for him to straighten. Doan's Kidney Pills were just what he needed and they made a great improvement in every way. I have just as much faith in Doan's Kidney Pills now, as I did when I publicly recommended them some years ago. We keep them in the house and use them whenever we need a kidney medicine."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

THE DEMAND OF THE WARDS

In its [illegible] better [illegible] for the [illegible] Ward needs [illegible] for the best [illegible] of the [illegible] ward [illegible] and the [illegible]

It is reported that upon the occasion [illegible] for general [illegible] held [illegible] discussion which [illegible] What is [illegible] to get out of this.

THE STATE TROLLEY ROADS

[illegible] upper part of Rhode Island [illegible] are quite [illegible] in this state now which [illegible] operated by the New York New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company. This [illegible] which is to be [illegible] the federal government [illegible] the [illegible] of the business of public service corporations [illegible] the possibility that the trolley [illegible] no real interest in [illegible] the control of [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] have [illegible] so [illegible] many more than it does now for sentiment in regard to public ownership of public utilities has changed greatly within a short time and many now favor such ownership who formerly were strongly opposed to it. It hardly seems likely however that the legislature will [illegible] to state ownership of trolley lines [illegible] opposition from [illegible] and individuals who would like to [illegible] some connection [illegible] the sale of the roads when it takes place.

State regulation of trolley roads to the extent of insisting upon approval by the Public Utilities Commission of a sale or lease is however quite a different thing. Though this too is practically sure to be opposed by interests which would like to control the roads it is only a reasonable [illegible] for the state to make [illegible] to protect [illegible] should the interests of the public [illegible] other way [illegible] the people be safeguarded against the possibility of injury to their interests by the sale of the roads to parties who will care only for their own profits and may manipulate the stock of the companies for their own ends and with no regard for the public. That there should be some such safeguard probably few will deny and it is well therefore that these two measures have been presented to the legislature for approval or rejection. They merit early consideration and early action according to the best judgment of the legislature and for the best interests of the people of the state.

BANKING ON THE SIDE

The affairs of a great store with a bank as a side issue which is now in a receivership illustrate once more the danger of making banking an incident to any other business. The deposits in this establishment were secured in a sense but not in a very substantial one. If a store takes in $ 500 000 from its depositors and protects them by the deposit of its own shares it is not affording very much more security than its mere undertaking to pay would amount to. If the store doesn't fail the deposits are in no particular danger but if the store does fail what is the value of its security?

This store bank was not doing a real banking business. It was only accepting money from depositors and using it in the business. Almost the entire volume of its sums was lent to the principal proprietor or to the various [illegible] under the same management. No notes were given for the sums taken out of the bank and there was no security except the stock in the store. Virtually the depositors in the bank were partners but they didn't know it—with this qualification that no matter how much money the store made they would receive nothing beyond the stipulated rate of interest and [illegible] the store failed they would lose.

This kind of management would have been unlawful in a national bank and many men in the national system have been sent to the penitentiary for [illegible] the funds of their banks [illegible] outside interests. Under the laws of New York it was not necessarily a criminal transaction. The New York banking laws however [illegible] to undergo revision [illegible] that restrictions [illegible] this sort of business will be imposed. Most such failures are due to [illegible] of the funds [illegible] their business. When Ridgeley was comptroller of the currency he said that nine [illegible] were [illegible] lending [illegible] in violation of law to a single interest and the [illegible] risk his funds [illegible]

ANOTHER CONSPIRACY

Our Democratic friends are indulging [illegible] conspiracies. Their favorite attitude is that of stopping to [illegible] and to [illegible] the country. The Money Losers [illegible] tariff [illegible] were an insidious lobby the bankers who did not like the Glass bank bill [illegible] depression as a result of tariff reductions were [illegible] Of [illegible] the Money [illegible] sum of [illegible] which a [illegible] is to be con[illegible] eliminating [illegible] and now [illegible] Demo[illegible] and the dignity [illegible] leading [illegible] Secretary of State will [illegible] influence [illegible] President [illegible] Bryan which [illegible]

This it is seen how well the discov[illegible] [illegible] confidence of the business world by al[illegible]

lowing Bryan to devote himself to The Commoner and the Chautauqua circuit.

An agreement between European nations made in October 1912, not to participate in international expositions except at three years intervals beginning October 1912 is now announced as the reason why these nations are not to participate in the Panama Pacific Exposition at San Francisco next year. The American government was represented only unofficially at the meeting where the agreement was made and did not become one of the signers. It is argued however that the Panama Pacific cannot fall within the purview of the international agreement for the reason that while the exposition will open officially the first of 1915 it will not in fact open until later and since it continues one year will extend beyond the period October 1915 fixed by the agreement. Nevertheless Europe can count less in not taking any interest in the exposition.

The revision committee of the International Congress on Safety at Sea has completed the work on which it has been engaged in London for [illegible] weeks and the American [illegible] regulations have been agreed to by the English delegates. The main features of these is that they give control of the appliances and supervision over the operations of employes to the United States government no matter what may be the nationality of ships when vessels are coming to or departing from American waters.

The United States it is announced will pay the cost of supporting the refugees from Mexico at Fort Bliss and keeping a strict account of every cent paid for this purpose will later make a claim against the Mexican government for repayment. Just how long it will be necessary to support the refugees is not known but as it will cost fully $1500 a day it will not take long to run up a considerable bill for Mexico to pay at some future time.

Governor Glynn of New York is trying to cut down the expenses of the state and the legislature has promised its assistance by abolishing superfluous departments and consolidating those which interlock. There is opportunity in Rhode Island for a similar economy. Will the legislature attempt to reduce expenses or will it maintain appropriations regardless of the revenues of the state?

The city charter as a human production probably lacks perfection but it is the best Newport has ever had. If improvements should be made now is not the best time to make them when strong influences are at work to sweep the instrument away entirely. It is a bad time to talk of weaknesses when in front of the enemy.

The refusal of the rules committee of the House to yield to the suffragists makes it look very much as if they had been repulsed again. They are used however to defeat and propose to keep everlastingly at it. Their very persistency may gain for them what has so often been denied.

President Wilson's anti trust reform message which is ready to be read to Congress Tuesday has been largely discounted by advance statements as to its scope and purport.

BOTHA'S VICTORY

MIDDLETOWN.

Miss Annie Dorothy Silvia Married to Timothy Grady of Newport

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

Miss Annie Dorothy Silvia youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs Justinian P Silvia of Green End avenue was united in marriage to Mr Timothy Grady of Newport at St Joseph's Church Saturday. The bride wore a dress of white silk with lace trimmings and a tulle veil and her bouquet was of white carnations. Her bridesmaid was an aunt of the groom Miss Julia Sullivan of Newport and Harry Ratchamp of Newport performed the duties of best man.

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride in Middletown and in the evening a large reception was given the young couple more than 100 guests being present. Ice cream cake fruit punch and wedding cake were served.

Among the numerous wedding gifts which were largely of silver was a chest of silver from the members of the Stanhope garage who are friends of the groom many pieces of furniture and a generous sum of money.

Mr and Mrs Grady left that evening for New York for a short wedding trip and upon their return will reside on [illegible] avenue. A large number from Newport attended the reception.

A number from this town attended Saturday in Providence the wedding of Miss Ruth Eva Pinkham principal at the Oliphant School from 1908 to 1910 to Mr George Lanstaff of that city. Miss Theodora Grace Anthony younger daughter of Mr and Mrs John Henry Anthony of this town who was bridesmaid was the assistant in the primary grades at the time Miss Pinkham was principal.

Rev Professor Hugell E W Fosbroke D D Ph D of the Episcopal Theological School Cambridge Mass was the preacher at the morning service at St Columba the Berkeley Memorial Chapel Sunday. His text was taken from the story of the wedding feast in Cana of Galilee John I 10 and the message was in substance that the end of the Christian's life will be better than the beginning. The service was conducted by the rector Rev Latta Griswold assisted by Rev John P Dunn.

The Sunday evening illustrated lecture [illegible] Berkeley parish house until [illegible] Our [illegible] in the Making was presented by Mr Elisha A Peckham. The special hymns related the subject and included [illegible] bi[illegible] the tie that binds," "Lord speak to me, and Oh thou whose Almighty Word, the last being thrown upon the screen as the lecture was brought to a close. Mr Robert W Hughes musical director at St. George's School acted as pianist. The lantern was operated by Messrs Weyman Stockton Crocker and Wright Duryea from St George's 107 slides being shown. The next lecture will be upon Honolulu and the Hawaiian islands.

Sunday evening Rev E I Wells gave the third in his series of talks on Evolution at the Methodist Episcopal Church on The Evolution of Education before a large audience. The fourth and last will be The Evolution of the Home. Rev Mr Well and Mr William Livesey Brown left this morning to attend a two days mass meeting at the People's Temple Boston following the lines of the Indianapolis convention.

A social evening with special games is being planned to follow the supper under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The weather is somewhat cloudy and unsettled in most of the eastern half of the country and in the Northwest. Scattered precipitation has occurred during the past 24 hours in the western Lake region thence southward to Tennessee and at a few stations in the Northwest while on the Pacific slope light rain has occurred at most stations. A marked barometric depression lies off Newfoundland. A weak disturbance has lessened from the Northwest and is central this morning. Low temperatures again prevailed in New England, while in the central district there has been a rise to considerably above the seasonal average. The lowest reported during last night was 19 degrees below zero at Northfield Vt. There will be rising temperature in New England tonight and Tuesday with the approach of the Minnesota disturbance. THE NEWS IN PROVIDENCE.

THE DEMANDS OF THE WARDS.

In its consideration of appropriations for streets and other betterments, the Committee of Twenty-Five usually feels that it is necessary to divide the money available equally among the wards, without any apparent regard for the relative needs. If a roadbed or sidewalk in Ward 3 or Ward 5 needs attention, Wards 2 or 4 must have the same amount of "pap" or the thing will not work. Without reference to the difference in the size of the wards, and the consequent varying needs, money should be spent for the best good of the city as a whole. Ward lines are convenient on the day of election and for representation in the Council, but taxes are not levied by wards and the proceeds should not be confined to wards.

It is remembered that upon one occasion a resolution for general betterment of the city was introduced into the old Council, and in the discussion which followed a member asked: "What is my ward to get out of this?"

THE STATE TROLLEY ROADS.

The people of the upper part of Rhode Island, through their representatives at the capitol, are quite disturbed over the impending sale of the trolley lines in this state now owned and operated by the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company. This sale, which is to be enforced by the federal government in the crusade for the simplifying of the business of public service corporations, means the possibility that the trolley roads will pass into the hands of men who have no real interest in the affairs of the state or the people who reside here, or into the control of men who will not conduct these roads with as much regard for the interests of the public as they have been managed. This has caused attention to be attracted to the need of some sort of control or some influence in regard to the disposal of important public service concerns like this, and it has been discovered that there is no power now resting in any person or any body connected with the state government to regulate or in any way act in connection with such a sale.

It was at first thought that the Public Utilities Commission might have some power in such a case, but it was quickly learned that none is vested in that body under the law creating it. The discovery of this fact led to the introduction into the senate by the member from Providence of an amendment to the law creating the commission, extending its power so that no public service corporation can dispose of its property in any way without the agreement of the Public Utilities Commission. This is obviously a proper measure, and one which should have been incorporated in the act when framed. The people of the state, through some legally constituted body, should have the power to check the sale or lease of property of public service corporations if by such sale or lease their interests would plainly be affected adversely. The proper body to possess that power is this commission, which was created for the purpose of dealing with just such matters pertaining to the relations between public utilities and the people.

As a part of the same movement and with the interest of the public in view, another step has been taken by the introduction in the senate by the member from Providence of a resolution for the appointment of a joint special committee of the two branches of the legislature, for an investigation of the conditions and a recommendation as to the advisability of the purchase of these trolley roads by the state. State ownership will doubtless seem to some, and perhaps many, too radical a movement. It is certain that a few years ago it would have appeared so to many more than it does now, for sentiment in regard to public ownership of public utilities has changed greatly within a short time and many now favor such ownership who formerly were strongly opposed to it. It hardly seems likely, however, that the legislature will proceed at this time to such a length as to vote for state ownership of trolley lines, and besides there will undoubtedly be strong opposition from corporations and individuals who would like to have some connection with the sale of these roads when it takes place.

State regulation of trolley roads to the extent of insisting upon approval by the Public Utilities Commission of any sale or lease is, however, quite a different thing. Though this, too, is practically sure to be opposed by interests which would like to control these roads, it is only a reasonable provision for the state to make if it is to protect as it should the interests of the public, in no other way apparently can the people be safeguarded against the possibility of injury to their interests by the sale of the roads to parties who will care only for their own profits, and may manipulate the stock of the companies for their own ends and with no regard for the public. That there should be some such safeguard probably few will deny, and it is well, therefore, that these two measures have been presented to the legislature for approval or rejection. They merit careful consideration and early action, according to the best judgment of the legislature and for the best interests of the people of the state.

BANKING "ON THE SIDE."

The affairs of a great store with a bank as a side issue, which is now in a receivership, illustrate once more the danger of making banking an incident to any other business. The deposits in this establishment were secured in a sense, but not in a very substantial one. If a store takes in $2,000,000 from its depositors and protects them by the deposit of its own shares, it is not affording very much more security than its mere undertaking to pay would amount to; if the store doesn't fail the deposits are in no particular danger, but if the store does fail what is the value of its security?

This store bank was not doing a real banking business. It was only accepting money from depositors and using it in the business. Almost the entire volume of deposits was lent to the principal proprietor or to the various stores under the same management. No notes were given for the sums taken out of the bank, and there was no security except the stock in the store. Virtually the depositors in the bank were partners, but they didn't know it—with this qualification, that no matter how much money the store made they would receive nothing beyond the stipulated rate of interest, and if the store failed they would lose.

This kind of management would have been unlawful in a national bank and many men in the national system have been sent to the penitentiary for borrowing the funds of their banks for their own outside interests. Under the laws of New York it was not necessarily a criminal transaction. The New York banking laws, however, are about to undergo revision and it is predicted that restrictions upon this sort of business will be imposed. Most such failures are due to a banker's use of the funds or the benefit of his other business. When Ridgeley was comptroller of the currency he said that nine tenths of the national bank failures were due to lending too much, in violation of law, to a single interest, and the banker doesn't often risk his funds and his personal freedom except for its own business interests.

ANOTHER CONSPIRACY.

Our Democratic friends are indefatigable in the discovery of conspiracies. Their favorite attitude is that of stooping to look under the bed, and they always see things there against which they feel bound to warn the country. The Money Power is a conspiracy, the protected manufacturers who did not wish the tariff lowered were an insidious lobby, the bankers who did not like the Glass-Owen bill conspired to create unfavorable sentiment and the Republicans who predicted business depression as the result of tariff reductions were conspirators against the public weal.

Now there is a new conspiracy, aimed at William Jennings Bryan. Of course it is a close kin of the Money Power, because the free-silver champion is the worst enemy it has encountered since the last Greenbacker expired. The story is that a vast sum of money is being raised with which a nation-wide campaign is to be conducted for the purpose of eliminating Bryan from the cabinet.

Forewarned is forearmed, and now that the story of this diabolical conspiracy against the peace of a Democratic administration and the dignity of the leading star in the Chautauqua circuit has been disclosed the fangs of the unscrupulous enemy have been drawn. The campaign will fall. Attacks upon the Secretary of State will have no influence with the President, because he will know that they are paid for by Bryan's relentless but plutocratic enemies. If Wilson should wish to be rid of Bryan, which is not credible, he will be deterred therefrom lest it should be suspected that he is influenced by a deep dark conspiracy whose expenses are paid by those enemies of mankind, the malefactors of great wealth.

Thus it is seen how well the discovery of this latest in the long series of conspiracies may frighten the hold of William Jennings Bryan upon the administration and make it almost impossible for Wilson to win the confidence of the business world by allowing Bryan to devote himself to The Commoner and the Chautauqua circuit.

An agreement between European nations, made in October, 1912, not to participate in international expositions except at three years' intervals, beginning October, 1912, is now announced as the reason why these countries are not to participate in the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco next year. The American government was represented only unofficially at the meeting where the agreement was made and did not become one of the signers. It is argued, however, that the Panama-Pacific fair cannot fall within the purview of the international agreement, for the reason that, while the exposition will open officially the first of 1915, it will not in fact open until later; and since it continues one year, will extend beyond the period October 31, 1916, fixed by the agreement. Nevertheless the European countries are not taking any interest in the exposition.

The revision committee of the International Congress on Safety at Sea has completed the work on which it has been engaged in London for several weeks, and the American wireless regulations have been agreed to by the English delegates. The main feature of these is that they give control of the apparatus and supervision over the operations of employes to the United States government, no matter what may be the nationality of ships, whenever they are coming to or departing from American waters.

The United States, it is announced, will pay the cost of supporting the refugees from Mexico at Fort Bliss, and keeping a strict account of every cent paid for this purpose will later make a claim against the Mexican government for re-payment. Just how long it will be necessary to support the refugees is not known, but as it will cost fully $1500 a day it will not take long to run up a considerable bill for Mexico to pay at some future time.

Governor Glynn of New York is trying to cut down the expenses of the state, and the legislature has promised its assistance by abolishing superfluous departments and consolidating those which interlock. There is opportunity in Rhode Island for a similar economy. Will the legislature attempt to reduce expenses, or will it make appropriations regardless of the revenues of the state?

The city charter, as a human production, probably lacks perfection, but it is the best Newport has ever had. If improvements should be made, now is not the best time to make them, when strong influences are at work to sweep the instrument away entirely. It is a bad time to talk of weaknesses when in front of the enemy.

The refusal of the rules committee of the House to yield to the suffragists' views makes it look very much as if they had been repulsed again. They are used, however, to defeat, and propose to "keep everlastingly at it." Their very persistency may gain for them what has so often been denied.

President Wilson's anti-trust reform message, which is ready to be read to Congress Tuesday, has been largely discounted by advance statements as to its scope and purport.

BOTHA'S VICTORY.

[Boston Transcript.]

The South African government has won a notable victory over the forces of anarchy that masquerade under the name of labor. Its action has been swift, sharp and decisive, and the manner in which the masses of the country people have rallied to its support affords convincing evidence of the power and determination to crush the party whose chief instrument of reform is dynamite. The shooters are up against the shooters, and down it is not the miners, the artisans, the railway men, nor the dockers but the farmers who have the strong upper hand and hold in it the fate of South Africa. They are not farmers of the common type, but men who all their lives have had before them the traditional companionship of the rifle and the plough, which necessity made a precautionary measure.

There is nothing very admirable in martial law. We do not like it. But when it really must be applied for the rescue of civil law the best thing to do is to make its application thorough, so that its operation may be short and the restoration of order quick.

CHINESE WOMEN AT THEATRES.

[Pekin Gazette.]

In order to prevent trouble the various Chinese theatres and musical houses are not permitted to sell tickets to Chinese visitors with their women folk, but as there are some foreigners who wish to hear Chinese singing and music and always buy tickets for their wives and female friends, and refuse to observe this rule, the owners of the musical houses and theatres have petitioned the police about the matter. In reply the chief of police said that as foreign men and women enjoy equal rights in their own countries and are permitted to make friends with each other without restriction they should not be treated in the same way as Chinese women and girls, so the owners are permitted to allow foreign women theatre-goers to sit with their male friends, but Chinese females are still not allowed to enjoy the same privileges.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

At the Christian Church Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. Albert Loucks, preached from John XXI:3.

Rev. Anson B. Howard, rector of St. Paul's preached from I Corinthians III:16-17. Miss Edna Malone was the soloist.

Rev. James M. Estes, pastor of the Friends' Church, spoke from Colossians 1:16. The Christian Endeavor service in the evening was led by the Sunday School superintendent, Mr. Charles W. Cory, Jr., the subject being "Ambitious Endeavorers."

Rev. John Wadsworth of the Methodist Episcopal Church took for his text Sunday morning I Timothy III:16 and in the evening Mark XXVI:15.

Mr. Cyrus Estes of the Moses Brown School, Providence, was at the home of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Estes, for the end of the week.

Mrs. Benjamin Hedley, who died in Nattick last week, was the wife of Benjamin Hedley, formerly of this town and the youngest of eight children, six of whom are still living—Henry, Atwell and Arthur of this town; Mrs. Truman Carter and David Hedly of Adamsville and Mrs. Esther Sweet of Providence.

Mr. George Manchester is entertaining his mother, Mrs. Gideon P. Manchester, of Tiverton.

Mrs. Abbie E. Manchester is visiting her brother, Mr. Benjamin C. Sherman, and family.

Mrs. Florence Daniels is spending a week in Egypt, Mass., with her parents.

Mr. John W. Marshall has his aeroplane, which he began last fall, about half finished and expects it to be ready to use by June.

Mrs. Denison of Westerly has arrived to spend some weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Thomas.

Mrs. Mary Tener and her son James are visiting relatives near Bradford station.

Miss Evelyn Gray, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pardon Gray, formerly of this town, and now of Tiverton, was married Sunday, January 3, to Mr. John Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bent Simmons of Tiverton, at St. Anthony's Church, by Rev. Father Rooney.

MIDDLETOWN.

Miss Annie Dorothy Silvia Married to Timothy Grady of Newport.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

Miss Annie Dorothy Silvia youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Justillian P. Silvia of Green End avenue, was united in marriage to Mr. Timothy Grady of Newport at St. Joseph's Church Saturday. The bride wore a dress of white silk with lace trimmings, and a tulle veil, and her bouquet was of white carnations. Her bridesmaid was an aunt of the groom, Miss Julia Sullivan of Newport. Mr. Harry Rathcamp of Newport performed the duties of best man.

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride in Middletown and in the evening a large reception was given the young couple, more than 100 guests being present. Ice cream, cake, fruit punch and wedding cake were served.

Among the numerous wedding gifts which were largely of silver, was a chest of silver from the members of the Stanhope garage, who are friends of the groom; many pieces of furniture, and a generous sum of money.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady left that evening for New York for a short wedding trip, and upon their return will reside on Callender avenue. A large number from Newport attended the reception.

A number from this town attended Saturday in Providence the wedding of Miss Sarah Eva Tinkham, principal at the Oliphant School from 1908 to 1910, to Mr. George Langstaff of that city. Miss Theodora Grace Anthony, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Anthony of this town, who was bridesmaid, was the assistant in the primary grades at the time Miss Tinkham was principal.

Rev. Professor Hugall E. W. Fosbroke, D. D., Ph. D., of the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass., was the preacher at the morning service at St. Columba the Berkeley Memorial Chapel, Sunday. His text was taken from the story of the wedding feast in Cana of Galilee, John II:10, and the message was in substance that the end of the Christian's life shall be better than the beginning. The service was conducted by the rector, Rev. Latta Griswold, assisted by Rev. John B. Diman.

The Sunday evening illustrated lecture at the Berkeley parish house, entitled "Our Bible in the Making," was presented by Mrs. Elisha A. Peckham. The special hymns related to the subject and included "Blest be the tie that binds," "Lord speak to me," and "Oh thou whose Almighty Word," the last being thrown upon the screen as the lecture was brought to a close. Mr. Robert W. Hughes, musical director at St. George's School, acted as pianist. The lantern was operated by Messrs. Weyman Stockton Crocker and Wright Duryea from St. George's, 107 slides being shown. The next lecture will be upon Honolulu and the Hawaiian Islands.

Sunday evening Rev. E. E. Wells gave the third in his series of talks on Evolution at the Methodist Episcopal Church, on "The Evolution of Education," before a large audience. The fourth and last will be "The Evolution of the Home." Rev. Mr. Wells and Mr. William Livesey Brown left this morning to attend a two days' mass meeting at the Peoples Temple, Boston, following the lines of the Indianapolis convention.

A social evening with special games is being planned to follow the supper under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

THE WEATHER.

BOSTON, Jan. 19.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity—Fair and warmer tonight; Tuesday, probably snow or rain; moderate south to southwest winds.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Forecast for southern New England—Unsettled tonight and warmer; Tuesday, probably snow or rain; moderate south winds.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Forecast for northern New England—Unsettled and warmer tonight and Tuesday, probably snow; moderate winds, mostly south.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The weather is somewhat cloudy and unsettled in most of the eastern half of the country and in the Northwest. Scattered precipitation has occurred during the past 24 hours in the western Lake region thence southward to Tennessee, and at a few stations in the Northwest, while on the Pacific slope light rain has occurred at most stations. A marked barometeric depression lies off Newfoundland. A weak disturbance has descended from the Northwest and is central this morning. Low temperatures again prevailed in New England, while in the central district there has been a rise to considerably above the seasonal average. The lowest reported during last night was 12 degrees below zero at Northfield, Vt. There will be rising temperature in New England tonight and Tuesday with the approach of the Minnesota disturbance. Temperatures at 8 a. m. at New York 22, Washington 30, Jacksonville 46, New Orleans 58, St. Louis 44, Chicago 38, St. Paul 36, Bismarck 26, Des Moines 42, Kansas City 44, Denver 42, San Francisco 46, Portland, Oregon, 36 and Boston 19.

WEATHER SOMEWHAT UNSETTLED.

Somewhat unsettled weather will prevail during the first part of the week over much of the country, but the latter part will be generally fair. East of the Missouri river the weather will be unsettled, with snow or rain during much of the week, except that it will be generally fair during Monday and Tuesday in the great central valleys, and Tuesday and Wednesday in the Lake region and the Atlantic states. In the South the weather will be unsettled Monday and Tuesday, with local rains, followed by generally fair weather the remainder of the week.

FINANCES OF CATHOLIC CHURCHES.

A uual Reports of St. Ma'ys, St. Joseph's and St. Augistin's.

Demands of Parishes Generously Met, Debts Reduced and the Year a Success.

In the Catholic churches Sunday the pastors read at the several masses the annual financial reports for the year 1913. In every case the report proved very satisfactory and the pastor thanked his people for the generous response to the demands of the parish, and the willing manner in which the people had risen to every emergency.

St. Mary's.

At St. Mary's the mother church, Father Meenan read his report as follows:

St Augustine's.

At St. Augustin's Father Reddy read the annual report for the new parish, and it was a showing especially pleasing to him and his listeners. The report is briefer than that of the two other churches, but all the items are in. It is as follows:

Receipts.

Balance from 1912	$795.35
Pew rents, collections, mission, fair, festivals, donations, bequests, church societies, etc.	17,702.83
Diocesan collections, interest	747.24

Diocesan expenses, fair, express, telephone, printing, etc.	1,199.14
Balance December 31, 1913	644.20
	19,842.91

During the year there were in the parish 13 marriages, 51 baptisms of children and 4 of adults; total 55. Pupils registered in St. Augustin's parochial school, 324.

Both St. Joseph's and St. Augustin's show reductions in the debt of the parish. St. Joseph's paid off $5,000, reducing the debt to $65,000, and will make a determined effort this year still further to reduce this. St. Augustin's reduced its debt by $8,000, a big showing for a small parish.

St. Joseph's.

At St. Joseph's the pastor, Father Hisney, congratulated his people on what they had done during the year, not only in a material way, as shown by the financial statement, but also in a spiritual way. He spoke of the successful mission and of the growing interest in the various church societies, especially the Holy Name and the Young Ladies' Sodality, in which the men and younger women have been urged to enroll. All the societies are in a prosperous condition. He also expressed his gratitude to all who had assisted in making the year a success—the choir, the Sisters who have conducted the schools, and all others. The annual report is as follows:

Receipts.

MAY PLAY HOLLISTON.

Champions of Massachusetts Inclined Toward a Game With Rogers.

By far the most important school basket ball game pending this year is the one with the Holliston High School, which has a sensational record of winning 17 straight games this season without losing any. The Boston newspapers practically concede the championship of the state to Holliston, and as Rogers are the undoubted champions of Rhode Island the game will be one of the features in interscholastic circles. Manager Sweeney has a letter from the principal of Holliston High School, stating that he is inclined toward a game, but would like to know the size of the Rogers gymnasium, location of baskets, height of ceiling, etc. The letter is, to say the least, promising, and for Rogers to win this game would be to add a long coveted honor as champions of Massachusetts and Rode Island to the two state championships already won.

Owing to the failure of the B. M. C. Durfee High School team to secure the Boy's Club of Fall River for Saturday night, the game between Rogers and Durfee has been temporarily postponed, but will be played later in the season. In its stead Manager Sweeney is considering securing the strong Rhode Island State College Freshman team to play here next Friday. This team has made a great reputation this season, and with such players as LeBouef, formerly of B. M. C. Durfee and Spencer of East Greenwich Academy, the game if arranged should prove fast.

LARGE OUTPOURING OF MEN

Feast of the Holy Name Observed in the Various Roman Catholic Churches.

Sunday the Feast of the Holy Name was observed by the members of the Holy Name Societies who attended the early mass in the respective parishes, at 7 o'clock and receiving Holy Communion. There was a large outpouring of men in each parish, and the pastors felt greatly encouraged.

In the evening there was a solemn musical vespers at St. Mary's Church, with Father Meenan celebrant, Father Tierney deacon, Father Hines subdeacon and Father Ryan master of ceremonies. Father La Chance of the Cenacle had a seat within the sanctuary. The sermon was by Father Ryan. There was a very large attendance of men, and the Boys' Holy Name Society also attended in a body, making a big showing in the centre of the church. An orchestra and special singers assisted the regular boy choir and Organist Commette in the music.

FUNERAL OF WILLIAM E. WARREN.

The funeral of William Edward Warren son of the late, Peter Warren, took place Sunday afternoon from his home on Houston avenue. Rev. T. Wellington Henderson, D. D., of the Mt. Zion African Methodist Episcopal Church, officiated, and was assisted by Rev. Clifford L. Miller, pastor of the Union Congregational Church. The interment was in the City cemetery, the bearers being Messrs. Benjamin Warren, Samuel Warren George Bannister, McKingsley Jenkins, Ashley Jenkins and Henry Townsend. Mr. Warren is survived by a mother, three brothers and three sisters.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mrs. Peter D. Martin left for New York this morning.

—Mr. H. F. Webster has gone to New York on a brief visit.

—Miss Florence L. MacDonald of New York is visiting the Misses Byrnes on William street.

—Steamer Naugatuck arrived at the repair shops Sunday from Bridgeport and is tied up for an overhauling.

—Mayor Boyle has appointed Daniel J. J. Donovan an examiner of plumbers, to succeed Frank Toner, whose term expired January 1.

—The life savers at Brenton's point observed a fire at Narragansett Pier about 3 o'clock this morning which apparently destroyed a house.

—Rev. W. H. Bath, pastor of the Thames Street Methodist Episcopal Church, gave an illuminating and helpful talk on "Temptation" at the Walter Lowrie Club Sunday.

—Colonel and Mrs Herbert Bliss have sent out invitations to their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary reception, to be held at their residence, 46 Touro street, Saturday, January 31, from 3 to 5 and from 8 to 10 p. m.

—Plumbers and heater men have not yet made the round of calls booked for them in consequence of last week's freeze-up. This means that they are still giving only temporary relief and will come again later to provide repairs which will give full service. The damage done will amount to thousands of dollars in the way of repairs.

—Sunday afternoon the Shiloh Baptist and Union Congregational churches held a union meeting at the Shiloh. Rev. O. Paul Thompson preaching the sermon. Wednesday evening the Shiloh Church will hold a union service with the Mt Zion African Methodist Episcopal at the latter church, and Thursday evening the two will unite at the Shiloh.

AT WORK ON BOTH PONDS.

Newport Ice Company Making Good Harvest, and Others Cutting.

Favorable Weather for the Work Menaced by Shift of Wind to the Southwest.

The ice cutters had a great day Sunday, and those who take an interest in the work also had a great day to look on. The air was cold, the weather was pleasant, the roads were good and the walking safe, and the wind, well, it was not July; neither was it bad for the ice cutting season.

The main cutting was of course by the Newport Ice Company at Lily pond. The men kept steadily at work despite the large number of visitors and a good supply was harvested. The ice did not run quite up to the first cut, being about 7½ inches thick, but it was of good quality. The chain was kept going steadily and the ice rolled in rapidly. The men continued until the usual hour, lanterns furnishing the light when to sun failed.

This morning the cutters struck a thicker streak and again are running in 8 inch ice. It should have made some during the night. A considerable portion of the north end of the pond is cut over and the house was not quite half full. It would have been well past the middle if the ice had been 10 to 12 inches thick. This morning the Newport Company began running in at Green End pond, where men were Sunday busy marking out.

The cutting at the north of Green End was not so lively Sunday as had been expected. Herman Frasch had his house so nearly filled that he expected to finish the job this afternoon; he was cutting fine 8-inch ice. Owing to a break in the elevator chain, the Fasso Icehouse did not run in Sunday. There was a big field marked and sawed, and it was expected to run in today. Below, Jurgens was running in.

The weather still holds to the winter schedule. A temperature of 18 this morning against 20 Sunday morning and with considerable more cold at night gave hopes for the ice harvest which were not sustained by the weather report or the shift of wind to the southwest this morning. There is considerable thin ice up the bay and at Wekford Landing there is no trouble in crossing the river on the ice. The skating is good everywhere and there were many skaters Sunday every where. The weather favored, and all sorts of skates were seen—and all sorts of skaters.

The snow of the past two storms, when carefully gathered at the Water Works pumping station and melted, totalled just .08 of an inch, less than one twelfth of an inch for two storms. That is boiling it down some, but that seems to be what some folks would brush away from their sidewalks. Some did not even do that.

That thermometers vary under varying conditions is shown by some readings taken Sunday and today about noon. Sunday in the sun the old thermometer at Wright & Hay's stood at 81 about 11:55 and at 86 at 1:15; at the same time the News office thermometer stood at 26 and 25. This noon the same thermometer stood at 67 in the sun shortly after noon, at which the the News: thermometer recorded 32. There was a difference in the sunshine.

FOR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

Glee Club Concert, Special Sermon for Young Men and Lunches.

Fully 200 enlisted men enjoyed the concert by the Rhode Island College Glee Club at the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association Saturday evening. There were also in the audience officers from the army posts and naval stations and their wives, members of the Women's Auxiliary and other guests. The club repeated the program given at Masonic hall Friday evening, with one additional number. At the end of the program the club led the audience in singing "Star Spangled Banner." The entertainers were well received in their several numbers and were frequently encored.

There were no Bible classes at the Association Sunday afternoon, a large number of the members going to Trinity church for the afternoon service. Rev. W. F. B. Jackson preached a special sermon for young men, his subject being "Character Building." After the service the party went to the parish house, where the women of the church served a luncheon and Rev. Stanley C. Hughes, the rector, made a brief address. A census of states represented in the gathering was taken, each man rising as his native state was called. Later there was a song service, and the men broke up into small parties to attend service at the various churches.

In the evening Mr. Sutherland gave a travel lecture on Africa, illustrated by the stereopticon, in the Association building.

RESERVES BASKET BALL.

The Newport Naval Reserves basket ball team, which will have as opponents in the opening game the Bristol Naval Reserves, is expecting a good contest. MEMORIAL TO NEWPORTERS

Rev. John F. Sullivan to Present Marble Altar to Central Falls Church.

Rev. John F. Sullivan, formerly of his city, pastor of the Holy Trinity Church, Central Falls, made announcement at one of the masses Sunday morning that he will present to the parish a new marble altar, which will resemble the present wooden one in appearance. The announcement came as a surprise to the majority of the parishioners and was made during Father Sullivan's report of the year. The altar is now ready in Pietrasanta, Italy, and will be prepared for shipment within a few weeks. It will cost about $5,000 and is the outcome of a legacy left to Father Sullivan 11 years ago by Newport relatives, who provided in their last testaments that the residue of the estate be used for the erection of an altar in memory of them "in some church of which Father Sullivan is pastor."

FINANCES OF CATHOLIC CHURCHES.

Demands of Parishes Generously Met, Debts Reduced and the Year a Success.

In the Catholic churches Sunday the pastors read at the several masses the annual financial reports for the year 1913. In every case the report proved very satisfactory and the pastor thanked his people for the generous response to the demands of the parish, and the willing manner in which the people had risen to every emergency.

St. Mary's.

At St. Mary's the mother church, Father Meenan read his report as follows:

Receipts.

St Augustine's.

At St. Augustin's, Father Reddy read the annual report for the new parish, and it was a showing especially pleasing to him and his listeners. The report is briefer than that of the two other churches, but all the items are in. It is as follows:

Receipts.

Balance from 1912	$795.35
Pew rents, collections, mission, fair, festivals, donations, bequests, church societies, etc.	17,702.83

Diocesan expenses, fair, express, telephone, printing, etc.	1,199.14
Balance December 31, 1913	644.20
	19,842.91

During the year there were in the parish 13 marriages, 51 baptisms of children and 4 of adults; total 55. Pupils registered in St. Augustin's parochial school, 324.

Both St. Joseph's and St. Augustin's show reductions in the debt of the parish. St. Joseph's paid off $5,000, reducing the debt to $65,000, and will make a determined effort this year still further to reduce this. St. Augustin's reduced its debt by $8,000, a big showing for a small parish.

St. Joseph's.

At St. Joseph's the pastor, Father Higney, congratulated his people on what they had done during the year, not only in a material way, as shown by the financial statement, but also in a spiritual way. He spoke of the successful mission and of the growing interest in the various church societies, especially the Holy Name and the Young Ladies' Sodality, in which the men and younger women have been urged to enroll. All the societies are in a prosperous condition. He also expressed his gratitude to all who had assisted in making the year a success—the choir, the Sisters who have conducted the schools, and all others. The annual report is as follows:

MAY PLAY HOLLISTON.

Champions of Massachusetts Inclined Toward a Game With Rogers.

By far the most important school basket ball game pending this year is the one with the Holliston High School, which has a sensational record of winning 17 straight games this season without losing any. The Boston newspapers practically concede the championship of the state to Holliston, and as Rogers are the undoubted champions of Rhode Island the game will be one of the features in interscholastic circles. Manager Sweeney has a letter from the principal of Holliston High School, stating that he is inclined toward a game, but would like to know the size of the Rogers gymnasium, location of baskets, height of ceiling, etc. The letter is, to say the least, promising, and for Rogers to win this game would be to add a long coveted honor as champions of Massachusetts and Rode Island to the few state championships already won.

Owing to the failure of the B. M. C. Durfee High School team to secure the Boy's Club of Fall River for Saturday night, the game between Rogers and Durfee has been temporarily postponed, but will be played later in the season. In its stead Manager Sweeney is considering securing the strong Rhode Island State College Freshman team to play here next Friday. This team has made a great reputation this season, and with such players as LeBouef, formerly of B. M. C. Durfee and Spencer of East Greenwich Academy, the game if arranged should prove fast.

LARGE OUTPOURING OF MEN

Feast of the Holy Name Observed in the Various Roman Catholic Churches.

Sunday the Feast of the Holy Name was observed by the members of the Holy Name Societies who attended the early mass in the respective parishes, at 7 o'clock and receiving Holy Communion. There was a large outpouring of men in each parish, and the pastors felt greatly encouraged.

In the evening there was a solemn musical vespers at St. Mary's Church, with Father Meenan celebrant, Father Tierney deacon, Father Hines subdeacon and Father Ryan master of ceremonies. Father La Chance of the Cenacle had a seat within the sanctuary. The sermon was by Father Ryan. There was a very large attendance of men, and the Boys' Holy Name Society also attended in a body, making a big showing in the centre of the church. An orchestra and special singers assisted the regular boy choir and Organist Commette in the music.

FUNERAL OF WILLIAM E. WARREN.

The funeral of William Edward Warren son of the late Peter Warren, took place Sunday afternoon from his home on Houston avenue. Rev. T. Wellington Henderson, D. D., of the Mt. Zion African Methodist Episcopal Church, officiated, and was assisted by Rev. Clifford L. Miller, pastor of the Union Congregational Church. The interment was in the City cemetery, the bearers being Messrs. Benjamin Warren, Samuel Warren George Bannister, McKingsley Jenkins, Ashley Jenkins and Henry Townsend. Mr. Warren is survived by a mother, three brothers and three sisters.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mrs. Peter D. Martin left for New York this morning.

—Mr. H. F. Webster has gone to New York on a brief visit.

—Miss Florence L. MacDonald of New York is visiting the Misses Byrnes on William street.

—Steamer Naugatuck arrived at the repair shops Sunday from Bridgeport and is tied up for an overhauling.

—Mayor Boyle has appointed Daniel J. Donovan an examiner of plumbers, to succeed Frank Tuner, whose term expired January 1.

—The life savers at Brenton's point observed a fire at Narragansett Pier about 3 o'clock this morning which apparently destroyed a house.

—Rev. W. H. Bath, pastor of the Thames Street Methodist Episcopal Church, gave an illuminating and helpful talk on "Temptation" at the Walter Lowrie Club Sunday.

—Colonel and Mrs Herbert Bliss have sent out invitations to their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary reception, to be held at their residence, 46 Touro street, Saturday, January 31, from 3 to 5 and from 8 to 10 p. m.

—Plumbers and heater men have not yet made the round of calls booked for them in consequence of last week's freeze-up. This means that they are still giving only temporary relief and [illegible] again later to provide repairs which will give full service. The damage done will amount to thousands of dollars in the way of repairs.

—Sunday afternoon the Shiloh Baptist and Union Congregational churches held a union meeting at the Shiloh, Rev. O. Paul Thompson preaching the sermon. Wednesday evening the Shiloh Church will hold a union service with the Mt Zion African Methodist Episcopal at the latter church, and Thursday evening the two will unite at the Shiloh.

—The Ministers' Union met this afternoon at the Shiloh Baptist parsonage, taking luncheon with the pastor, Rev. Henry N. Jeter, D. D. The paper of the afternoon was read by General Secretary E. O. Andrews of the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association, on "The importance of Christian Effort at a Naval Training Station."

—The sub-committee on parks, police and public property will hold another meeting this evening and Messrs. McLeish, Costello and Willard of the Park Commission are expected to be present to explain the estimates. Tuesday evening the fire department committee will meet, and Wednesday the committee on health will assemble. Chairman Titus of the committee on schools expected to arrange for its meeting today.

—The "On to Haverhill" committee of Land's End Lodge Loyal Order of Moose, will give a dance Wednesday evening in Realty hall when a number of novelties will be introduced for the first time in Newport. The music [illegible] are expected to be [illegible] features and the original Tango orchestra will be heard on its first appearance. The committee in charge will be John O'Neill, Harold Burdick, Nat Smith and James O'Connell.

MEMORIAL TO NEWPORTERS

Rev. John F. Sullivan to Present Marble Altar to Central Falls Church.

Rev. John F. Sullivan, formerly of this city, pastor of the Holy Trinity Church, Central Falls, made announcement at one of the masses Sunday morning that he will present to the parish a new marble altar, which will resemble the present wooden one in appearance. The announcement came as a surprise to the majority of the parishioners and was made during Father Sullivan's report of the year. The altar is now ready in Pietrasanta, Italy, and will be prepared for shipment within a few weeks. It will cost about $5,000 and is the outcome of a legacy left to Father Sullivan 14 years ago by Newport relatives, who provided in their last testaments that the residue of the estate be used for the erection of an altar in memory of them "in some church of which Father Sullivan is pastor."

Many Enlisted Men Taking Advantage of New Educational System.

The Navy Department has received from the First division of the Atlantic fleet a report telling of the organization of the educational system among the enlisted men in accordance with a general order recently issued by Secretary Daniels. The Secretary finds great encouragement in the attitude manifested by the enlisted men toward this undertaking. Of the 96 first enlistment men on board the Florida 93 requested special instruction. On board the Arkansas of the total crew 439 men requested special instruction. On board the Utah Ensign John H [illegible] began a class in mechanical and marine engineering, a course particularly designed to fit men for promotion in the service. His class was started with [illegible] volunteers. In a short while it had increased to 7[illegible] and now it is 86.

Another interesting instance of the desire of the enlisted men to improve themselves and win promotion was reported from the North Dakota, which has been undergoing overhaul for several months at the Brooklyn navy yard. Since October the reading room on board this vessel has been utilized as a class room and about 5[illegible] men have been availing themselves of the opportunity for instruction offered by the Navy Young Men's Christian Association at Brooklyn. These classes were begun before the Secretary's order was issued.

The men of the Atlantic fleet have been polled and those affected by the educational order have been organized into classes. Academic education is made compulsory for all men who have not served two years or who have not proved their proficiency by examination. This course is elementary and men are discharged from such classes as soon as they have passed the required examinations. Where Mr Daniels [illegible] his greatest hope is in the courses of technical and practical instruction that are to be conducted along lines that will tend directly to increase the efficiency of the warship. These courses are elective but the work done by the men who take them is placed on their records.

Congressmen Would Secure Improvements in Their Districts.

Reindeer in Alaska Furnish Meat Supply—Representatives to Run for the Senate

[Washington correspondence of the News.]

WASHINGTON Jan 17—No doubt the Democrats in Congress are more worried about the mounting expenditures than anything else that confronts them. Having promised economy in several platforms the leaders would be glad to have those pledges carried out. The leaders are in earnest but a lot of men in Congress would prefer to secure good appropriations for their districts, believing that platform pledges are for the most part inconsequential.

The Democratic leaders in the present Congress do not differ from the Republican leaders in former Congresses in their efforts to obtain a measure of reform in expenditures. In fact all [illegible] to hold down the appropriations and work to that end if it doesn't affect their seats.

There is a campaign coming on. Every man in Congress knows that he must have something more than the record of his party with which to [illegible] his [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] with a [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] is personally attached to himself. It's all well to go back and [illegible] [illegible] the administration [illegible] President's friends [illegible] [illegible] two or three public buildings [illegible] hundreds of thousands [illegible] rivers and harbors it helps [illegible] more votes than the [illegible] And so the leaders will have to see the appropriations go as high as in the higher than in any previous Congress.

President Wilson had to wait until there was a certain amount of tariff [illegible] [illegible] the currency bill were passed but the prospects are that there will be a deal more [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] than on either of the other measures. The trust question will [illegible] [illegible] limits of the constitution and [illegible] constitutional lawyers [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Nothing goes [illegible] a constitutional debate [illegible] to be regarded a [illegible] of the constitution.

Long before the Baltimore convention I heard John Sharp Williams express admiration for Woodrow Wilson and quoting one of Wilson's phrases to the effect that it is [illegible] [illegible] the managers of the trusts and corporations and violators of laws against commerce. That remark helped to make Williams a supporter of Wilson. Now when legislation is pressed amending the anti trust laws it may be expected that the guilt is personal idea will be incorporated.

More than that Democratic leaders in Congress for years have been insisting that malefactors of great wealth should be punished when they violate the laws. Put a few magnates behind the bars and you will [illegible] this discrimination has often been publicly declared. We may expect [illegible] anti trust legislation this winter.

Bishop Rowe of Alaska says that even the Alaska is a great government [illegible] In time he says the reindeer [illegible] part of Alaska will [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in the United States. When [illegible] began sending reindeer to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] transportation [illegible]

—Mr. Hamilton B. Tompkins is spending a few weeks in Battle Creek, Mich.

—Miss Marguerite S. Mason is guest of Mrs. Joseph Bridgham in Providence.

—Miss Sophia Pitman of Providence, is guest of Mrs. E. G. Harishorn at "Halidon Hall."

—Mrs. Max Levy and her children have returned from a visit of several weeks to relatives in New York.

—Mrs. Morrison, wife of Lieutenant J. R. Morrison, U. S. N., entertained at dinner at the Naval Training Station Saturday evening.

—Mr. and Mrs. Alden F. Sanborn of New Hampshire are guests of Mr. Sanborn's brother, ex-Senator John P. Sanborn, on Broadway.

—The officers of Fort Adams will give a dance Friday evening in honor of the new commander, Lieutenant Colonel George F. Landers, and Mrs. Landers.

—The Firemen's Relief Association at a meeting Saturday evening, found that many members are suffering from the very cold weather at the Fearing fire and the consequent frost bites.

—Mr. Robert Walton Goelet, returned to New York from England Sunday, bringing a basket of pheasants which he had shot on the English moors. He also brought tapestries worth $20,000.

—Mrs. Bradford Norman took a theatre party to Boston in her automobile Saturday, her guests including Misses Roberts, Natalia and Dorothy Willard, Elizabeth S. Sands and Ruth Thomas.

—Mr. Patrick N. Sullivan a native of Fall River and for the past 10 years a resident of New Bedford, well known to many in this city, died Friday at his home in New Bedford. His funeral took place in that city Sunday.

—There was a milk wagon runaway on Warner street and upper Thames street about 9 o'clock Sunday morning, as a result of which Mr. Simmons has the print of a wheel hub on his fence and Mr. Mulligan has two broken shafts and a horse not seriously cut.

—Rear Admiral Austin M. Knight president of the Naval War College, has gone to Annapolis to deliver a lecture before the officers and midshipmen of the Naval Academy, and put in operation the new correspondence course of the Naval War College there.

—The Colonial theatre has added to its equipment by purchasing another Becker Bros. piano from Charles S. Plummer. It is in mission oak to match the interior decoration, and was finished especially for that purpose. The new piano is placed in the pit, and the old one is now on the stage.

—Mr. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, who has accepted an invitation to judge harness horses this year at the International Horse Show, in London, and at the Dublin Horse Show, in Ireland, will not be an exhibitor at Olympia next June, except in the coaching Marathon and the coaching Corinthian. He is to leave for England this week to prepare for the public coaching season on the London-Brighton road. The Venture will be put on about May 1.

—Among the recently appointed gunners (in ordinance), in the navy, are O. D. Butler of the Constellation and A. E. Rice of torpedo boat destroyer Warrington; among the recently appointed boatswains are R. D. Magill of the Naval Training Station and Stephen Ingham and W. R. Spear of torpedo boat destroyer Walke, and among the recently appointed gunners (electrical) is David Duffy of the Warrington.

—The new torpedo boat destroyer Alwyn, which was placed in commission Saturday at Philadelphia, will come to Newport to receive her torpedo outfit the latter part of this week. She is commanded by Lieutenant Commander Leigh C. Palmer, recently naval aide to the Secretary of the Navy, and her other officers are Lieutenants J. H. Hoover and Jabez S. Lowell and Ensign R. M. Elliott. From Newport to Alwyn will go south to join the Atlantic torpedo fleet.

—Usually it is the preacher with the short sermon who is expected to please, but Sunday, at the United Congregational Church the opposite proved true. Professor Earle of Tufts College occupied the pulpit and drew an enlarged evening attendance. He preached about a half-hour beyond the usual time in the evening, and the general wish was that he had preached longer. He also kept the men's class at the Sunday School a half hour later than usual, and they liked it.

SEEK MATERIAL FOR CAMPAIGN.

Congressmen Would Secure Improvements in Their Districts.

Reindeer in Alaska Furnish Meat Supply—Representatives to Run for the Senate.

[Washington correspondence of the News.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—No doubt the Democrats in Congress are more worried about the mounting expenditures than anything else that confronts them. Having promised economy in several platforms the leaders would be glad to have those pledges carried out. The leaders are in earnest, but a lot of men in Congress would prefer to secure good appropriations for their districts, believing that platform pledges are for the most part inconsequential.

The Democratic leaders in the present Congress do not differ from the Republican leaders in former Congresses in their efforts to obtain a measure of reform in expenditures. In fact, all leaders make it a point to hold down the appropriations and work to that end—if it doesn't affect their states.

There is a campaign coming on. Every man in Congress knows that he must have something more than the record of his party with which to go before his people. He must have something with a "point with pride" in it which is personally attached to himself. It's all well to go back and say, "I have stood by the administration and upheld the President's hands" but if, in addition, he can say, "I have secured two or three public buildings and some hundreds of thousands of dollars in rivers and harbors," it helps—in fact, it gets more votes than the first statement. And so the leaders will have to see the appropriations go as high as, if not higher than, in any previous Congress.

President Wilson had to wait until there was a great amount of talk before the tariff and the currency bills were passed, but the prospects are that there will be a deal more talk on the trusts than on either of the other measures. The trust question will bring up the limits of the constitution and give all the constitutional lawyers an opportunity to talk. Nothing goes quite so far as a constitutional debate. So many men like to be regarded as expounders of the constitution.

Long before the Baltimore convention I heard John Sharp Williams express his admiration for Woodrow Wilson and quoting one of Wilson's phrases to the effect, "Guilt is personal," referring to the managers of the trusts and corporations and violators of laws against commerce. That remark helped to make Williams a supporter of Wilson. Now, when legislation is passed amending the anti-trust laws it may be expected that the "guilt is personal" idea will be incorporated.

More than that, Democratic leaders in Congress for years have been insisting that "malefactors of great wealth" should be punished when they violate the laws. "Put a few magnates behind the bars, and you will end this discrimination," has often been publicly declared. We may expect rather drastic trust legislation this winter.

Bishop Rowe of Alaska says that even arctic Alaska is a great government asset. In time, he says, the reindeer in that part of Alaska will augment a supply of meat which is diminishing in the United States. When the government began sending reindeer to Alaska it was for the purpose of giving the natives food, transportation and clothing, all to come from those useful animals, but it appears that the reindeer have increased to such an extent that they will be exported to the states as a meat supply.

The usual struggle for right of way of different important measures has already begun. It has generally been conceded that appropriation bills must first be considered, but they have to give way to administration measures. Then there is the immigration bill which will surely pass, as well as a number of others which members want to put through and which the House will have to consider.

With 31 Senatorial seats to fill there are naturally quite a number of Senatorial candidates in Washington. Most of the incumbents are seeking to succeed themselves, while, as usual, the House has an array of Senatorial aspirants. Calder and Levy of New York have each been mentioned as possible successor of Senator Root. Stanley and Sherley of Bradley in Kentucky, Anthony, Campbell and Murdock of Bristow in Kansas, Moffit Bill Murray of Gore in Oklahoma, Knowland of Perkins in California, Mann of Sherman in Illinois, Lenroot of Stephenson in Wisconsin, as well as quite a number of others. It is an open field before the people this year with primaries in most states.

Financial Report of St. Mary's —Historical Society Meeting.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The annual financial report of St. Mark's Church was read at both masses Sunday, by the pastor, Father Sullivan. It showed the parish to be in a prosperous condition, as follows:

Receipts from all sources	$5,337.18
Expenditures	4,326.08
Cash balance	$911.10

There were 27 baptisms and five marriages during the year. The estimated value of the church property is $29,400.

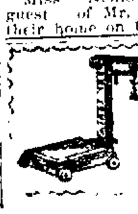

The Jamestown Historical Society held its monthly meeting Saturday afternoon at "Maplewood." Mr. Henry W. Clarke of Newport read an interesting and amusing paper on some of his personal reminiscences of Jamestown. The public had been invited and about 40 were present. After the meeting tea and wafers were served by Dr. Bates, the proceeds being for the benefit of the district nursing fund.

The ice cutters on Carr's pond completed work Sunday and with the supply secured by Clarke and Littlefield on the reservoir and Clarke on the south pond, all now available has been cut and another freeze will be necessary before more can be harvested.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Williams, who have been visiting relatives in Wakefield, have returned to their home on Columbus avenue.

Mr. Nicholas Carr and Miss Carr of Providence spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Carr, on the Shore road.

A Great Number of Men of Letters Thus Shuffled Off This Mortal Coil.

Homer, Demosthenes and Many Others of Renown on Long List of Those Tired of Life.

The world looks upon a person who commits suicide as a moral coward. No matter how brave and heroic he may have proven himself in life, the man who takes his own life sacrifices all the good he may have done, and all the reward and sympathy of his fellow-beings. And yet one cannot help wondering at the great number of men of letters who have shuffled off this mortal coil by means of suicide. It is an interesting but by no means easy task to enumerate the cases of suicide among literary men and those of renown, but the following is a partial list:

Homer, wandering blind through Greece and spurned by seven cities, ended his life because he could not solve the famous "fisherman's puzzle."

Sappho, whom the greatest philosophers and celebrities worshipped, threw herself over from Lesbian rock because her lover proved unkind.

Demosthenes poisoned himself with a virus which he carried in the point of a pen.

Empedocles the philosopher, grew weary of life and threw himself into the crater of Vesuvius.

Cleanthes was afflicted with disease. His physician prescribed severe dieting, and so great was his pleasure at the surcease of pain that he refused to eat anything whatever, and the wise man starved himself to death.

Aristarachus did likewise

Aristotle, whose philosophy is still practically supreme, found life a burden and laid it down with his own hand.

Isocrates, he of Attic eloquence, facing Philip of Macedon, chose death before surrender.

Aristides, known to history as "the Just," was banished by his people, who could not tolerate a man so perfect. In his lonely exile he sought death as an end to his disappointment.

Themistocles killed himself rather than obey an order to lead the Persians against his own countrymen.

Zeno, the philosopher, at the age of 89, fell and broke his thumb. He looked on this accident as an evil omen and committed suicide.

Mithridates king of Pontus, lived to an advanced age, and growing weary of life killed himself.

Lycurgus, who was responsible for the Sparta of history, did likewise.

Brutus and Cassius committed suicide when they were defeated by Octavius Caesar.

Marc Antony became jealous of his mistress, and ran himself upon his sword; and when Cleopatra heard the news she took the asp into her bosom.

Cato, the younger, when Caesar triumphed, fell upon his sword.

Terence the Roman poet, lost his collection of poems, and in despair, drowned himself.

Labienus's works were condemned to be burned, and he preferred death to such a humiliation.

Senaca, the great moralist, when he found life hanging heavily upon him, took his own life.

Lucretius, poet and thinker, lived near to the age of 43, when his wife deserted him. He could not be reconciled, and killed himself.

Damocles scalded himself to death.

Robert Burton, the author of the "Anatomy of Meloncholy," took his life.

Sir John Suckling, the poet, who wrote some splendid verses, killed himself.

Maitland of Lethington, who died in 1573, and the Earl of Essex, who died a century later, both took their lives.

Vatel, the famous chef of Louis XIV., disappointed because the fish did not arrive in time for dinner, killed himself.

Eustace Budgell, who defended suicide, practiced what he preached.

Thomas Chatterton, whose life Alfred de Vigny has put into one of the most pathetic tradegies of French literature, strolled into London, friendless, nothing to eat and nowhere to sleep. In despair he took poison and died.

Robert Clive, to whom England is indebted for her greatest empire, while under the whip of criticism made his quietus.

Kleist, the German poet, in company with a noted woman named Vogel, took his life.

Roland of the days of the French revolution, who was imprisoned for his patriotism, while thus incarcerated killed himself.

Pichegru, a famous soldier of the revolution, killed himself.

Robert Tannahill, the weaver poet, in a fit of despondency threw himself into a millpond and was drowned.

So also was Dr. Bull, who wrote England's national anthem.

Castlereagh cut his throat.

Hugh Miller, the Scotch geologist, suffered a fit of sickness and in a despondent moment killed himself.

Richard Realf, whose poetry was praised by Lady Byron, and who came to this country and fought under John Brown, met with reverses and suffering, and welcomed suicide as a relief.

There are many cases within the recollection of men of today—Admiral Fitzroy, Prevost Paradol, the brainy Frenchman; E. M. Ward, the painter; Frederick Archer; Louis II., king of Bavaria; Rudolph, crown prince of Austria; Pigott, the spy; Balmaceda, the deposed president of Chili, and Boulanger, the French general.

A few years ago an aristocrat of France, mistress of several languages, a painter of ability, a writer and thinker, Bertha Valfier found herself unable to longer pay rent or buy herself food. One night she went to the little room which had been her only place of refuge for four years of fighting, wrote three steady lines to the coroner, and then lay down in the dark to die. She was found by the police with the tube from a gas stove in her lips and a towel bound above her head to prevent the escape of the deadly vapor.

Francois Etienne Captier, one of France's greatest sculptors, found an ideal foot and fell in love with its proud possessor. She would not consent to let him use her foot as a model, and he, feeling that he could not complete his masterpiece without copying her foot, cursed mankind and took his life.

There is little doubt that Krupp who recently died under fire of harsh criticism, committed suicide.

Some of the newspapers in Paris are still insisting that Zola committed suicide, though they apparently base their suspicions on their prejudices rather than on the coroner's verdict. In this connection they are recalling that the official reports hushed up the real facts as to Gambetta's death, and, later on, that of President Felix Faure, whose sudden taking off has never been accepted as natural.

Byron who wrote:

> Better to sink beneath the shock
> Than moulder piecemeal on the rock'

declared that, while writing "Childe Harold," he would have committed suicide had it not been for the fact that it would have given so much pleasure to his mother-in-law.

Shelley thought many times of resorting to poison as "the key to the golden chamber of rest," and his life ended by drowning.

Warren, the author of "Ten Thousand a Year," in his autobiography states that when struggling for a living and things were looking blue, thoughts of suicide haunted him.

Daudet, when fame was slow in coming to him and he was living a life of privation, often contemplated suicide.

Bismarck declared after the battle of Sadowa that, if the Prussians had been defeated, he would have killed himself.

DUPLEX SELF REDUCING

An improved Self-Reducing model, with most valuable new patented features.

The broad bands of semi-elastic Lastikops Webbing at the back extend far below the back steels, and, by a newly-invented device, are made to curve in under the figure, giving a perfectly smooth, rounded effect; it is impossible for the corset edge to show through, and the coret can't "ride up."

The improved Self-Reducing front, with curved front steels and broad reducing bands, gives perfect abdominal support with extreme reduction of both abdomen and upper limbs.

IN TRUE ELK FASHION.

Elaborate Decorations and Latest Music Prepared for This Evening's Ball.

The committee of arrangements and the officers of the Newport Lodge, No. 104, of Elks, feel that they have outdone themselves in preparing for their ball to take place in Mason hall tonight. The general theme of decoration is an elaborate Italian color effect with many special features. An impressive tableau has been arranged for the 11 o'clock toast, which will prove to be a novelty to the dancing public of the city.

Professor Frank J. McCloskey's augmented 10-piece orchestra, assisted by Mr. A. Commette, will render a program of 20 numbers of the latest music, appropriate for the modern style of dance. During the intermission several solos will be rendered by Master Fogarty, accompanied by Mr. Commette.

The committee, anticipating the success of this ball, will recommend its presentation annually, that every one may be assured of an evening of enjoyment in true Elk fashion.

PRINCIPAL SONGS RETAINED

Children Who Present "H. M. S. Pinafore" Have Had Years of Training.

In the presentation of "H. M. S. Pinafore" at the Opera House this week by the "Kiddies" it is promised that while a tabloid version of Gilbert & Sullivan's popular opera is to be given, that the principal songs, duets and ensembles have been retained. In other places, when the cutting has fallen it has been said it would be hard to pick out the best one in the cast, for they are a clever and lovable lot of children. They are children of the stage, not an aggregation of little ones who have been picked up for this show, but of that class whose nursery has been the stage, audiences they have [illegible] had years of training, though still young.

Financial Report of St. Mary's —Historical Society Meeting.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The annual financial report of St. Mark's Church was read at both masses Sunday, by the pastor, Father Sullivan. It showed the parish to be in a prosperous condition, as follows:

Receipts from all sources	$5,237.18
Expenditures	4,326.08
Cash balance	$911.10

There were 27 baptisms and five marriages during the year. The estimated value of the church property is $29,400.

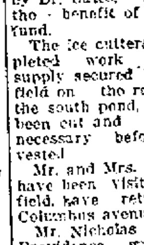

The Jamestown Historical Society held its monthly meeting Saturday afternoon at "Maplewood." Mr. Henry W. Clarke of Newport read an interesting and amusing paper on some of his personal reminiscences of Jamestown. The public had been invited and about 40 were present. After the meeting tea and wafers were served by Dr. Bates, the proceeds being for the benefit of the district nursing fund.

The ice cutters on Carr's pond completed work Sunday and with the supply secured by Clarke and Littlefield on the reservoir and Clarke on the south pond, all now available has been cut and another freeze will be necessary before more can be harvested.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Williams, who have been visiting relatives in Wakefield, have returned to their home on Columbus avenue.

Mr. Nicholas Carr and Miss Carr of Providence spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Carr, on the Shore road.

Miss Nellie Shea of Newport is guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wiseman at their home on Lincoln street.

Warren, the author of "Ten Thousand a Year," in his autobiography, states that when struggling for a living and things, were looking blue, thoughts of suicide haunted him.

Daudot, when fame was slow in coming to him, and he was living a life of privation, often contemplated suicide.

Bismarck declared after the battle of Sadowa that, if the Prussians had been defeated, he would have killed himself.

In 1794, owing to his extreme poverty and dark prospects, Napoleon attempted suicide.

IN TRUE ELK FASHION.

The committee of arrangements and the officers of the Newport Lodge, No. 104, of Elks, feel that they have outdone themselves in preparing for their ball to take place in Masonic hall tonight. The general theme of decoration is an elaborate Italian arbor effect with many special features. An impressive tableau has been arranged for the 11 o'clock toast, which will prove to be a novelty to the dancing public of the city.

Professor Frank J. McCloskey's augmented 10-piece orchestra, assisted by Mr. A. Commette, will render a program of 20 numbers of the latest music, appropriate for the modern style of dance. During the intermission several solos will be rendered by Master Fogarty, accompanied by Mr. Commette.

The committee, anticipating the success of this ball, will recommend its presentation annually, that every one may be assured of an evening of enjoyment in true Elk fashion.

PRINCIPAL SONGS RETAINED

Children Who Present "H. M. S. Pinafore" Have Had Years of Training.

In the presentation of "H. M. S. Pinafore" at the Opera House this week by the "kiddies" it is promised that, while a tabloid version of Gilbert & Sullivan's popular opera is to be given, also the principal solos, duets and ensembles have been retained. If other places, when the curtain has fallen, it has been said it would be hard to pick out the best one in the cast, for they are a clever and lovable lot of children. They are children of the stage—not an aggregation of little ones who have been picked up for this show, but of that class whose nursery has been the stage, and hence they have had years of training, though still young.

10:45—The stock market shook off its inertia today and developed a stronger tone. The leading stocks were all in good demand when trading began, with the steel issues in special favor. All the leaders were quoted at higher prices, although in most cases the opening rise was restricted to fractions. Amalgamated, Smelting, Northern Pacific, Canadian Pacific and Texas Company were the only issues to gain as much as a point. Reading was under pressure and after opening up ⅝ reacted a point. The backwardness of this leader affected the whole list and trading grew quieter, although gains in general were well held.

Noon—Traders opposed the early advance tendency and succeeded in checking the movement definitely. Business contracted sharply after the first hour. Sensitiveness of Reading to pressure discouraged further bullish operations, although there was no relapse of consequence in prices. ARE PEOPLE TO HAVE NO VOICE?

Will Not Amendment Drop Us Back to Conditions of Seven Years Ago?

Declaration of Principles on Which was formed Committee Which Prepared Present Charter.

To the Editor of the Daily News

The following Declaration of Principles was the platform upon which was formed the committee of well known and representative citizens who worked together for many months preparing our present charter

Government like all other earthly affairs is an evolution It is subject to the laws of development and progress It based in errors of principle it may call for revolution If rightly founded it may yet be susceptible of improvement While essentially sound it may be badly administered and great made the subject of many and great abuses which need reformation In recent years there has been in the minds of our observant and reflecting citizens a growing conviction that there is at hand the time in which there should be taken in the municipal affairs of Newport some marked steps of progress and reform some of these steps should be taken in an amendment to the city charter but others and greater and more pressing ones should be taken in connection with matters of administration under the present charter

Abuses have crept into the city government These are growing and in connection with various short-sighted and objectionable departures from sound methods on the part of a few men have led to serious detraction of Newport's fair fame and a material lessening of the general material prosperity which is rightly the heritage of our citizens

This Association of citizens earnestly desirous of setting aside these harmful influences and seeking to form a nucleus about which may gather the efforts of all those who desire to see the administration of affairs in our city a pattern of good government suggest these principles as constituting a platform upon which all right minded citizens may stand

1 The use of the referendum ... which is meant the right and opportunity of the citizen to vote upon all important matters affecting the prosperity and welfare of the city A recent marked instance of the violation of this right by the present City Council is seen in the ignoring of the petition of many citizens and the refusal to submit to the peoples vote the plans for the improvement of Long wharf

—The careful safeguarding of all the city property and franchise rights so that no man or group of men or corporation shall be permitted to acquire or maintain occupancy or control of any of the things which rightly belong to the whole people

—The conduct of all the city's business upon business principles ... there were constantly used in the affairs of the city the same diligence economy and good management which the successful individual exercises in his private business corresponding advantages to all would result

—The well considered expenditure of the moneys of the city so that there shall be the maintenance of the ... school system the enjoyment of ... streets and sidewalks the conservation of the public health and the best possible police and fire protection ... there should not be extravagant expenditure upon out of the way and little used streets while thoroughfares for business traffic ... frequented avenues are in a disreputable and unsafe condition

—To the end that these worthy and most desirable objects may be attained it seems to the utmost importance that there be complete dissociation of city management from state and national politics The conduct of the business affairs of our community need have no dependent connection with party affiliations outside

Every good citizen must feel not only that public office is a public trust but that citizenship in itself ... great responsibility—responsibility that cannot be evaded or ... without contributing to the ... of evil ever ... and active for the corruption of good government

This association either by nomination of its own or through endorsement of the nomination of others ... and ... the coming election ... all the various elective offices of the city will seek to secure the choice of the best men available for the several offices whether irrespective of party whether Republican or Democrat ... and ... the hearty practical ... and support of all those who desire to see in Newport a clean ... city administration of public ... and ... development of a new ... prosperity in which ... community shall have ...

The spirit of this Declaration was ... into the charter and made the ... document up to date in that it gave ... which ... now ... the people ... the latter had ... not be ... accepted by the qualified ... different the conditions ... surrounding the proposed amendment ... news who has ... that they are ... who lost the power ... enjoy ... and ... the people are to have no ...

Does it not seem in this case that ... of government which should ... higher plane is dropping us back to the very conditions which obtained seven years ago

DEVOUT AND IMPRESSIVE.

Solemn Presentation of "The Last Day of Our Ladye" at St Augustin's.

The sacred drama The Last Day of our Ladye was given before excellent audiences in the basement of St Augustin's church Sunday afternoon and evening The hall was attractive with palms and the stage settings were appropriate

Before the first act a well presented pantomime The Holy City was given Mr Morris singing the song and John Hodgson's orchestra Stella Mullaly pianist accompanying

The place of the play is Jerusalem 50 years after the birth of Christ The drama is in three acts, the first containing three scenes the second four and the third one Kleona daughter of the high priest Caiaphas, repents of her past and is received by the Christians, Dymne and Lydia and taken into the fold of Christianity by the Blessed Virgin At the end of the first act Mary is told by the Angel Gabriel that her hour has come, at the end of the second she dies, and at the end of the third act she is received up into heaven

Between acts I and II Miss Greta Morris sang Santa Maria Faure and Mr Connolly in the afternoon sang between acts II and III The tableaux were particularly well done especially Mary's Death and The Assumption The program was concluded with the chorus God Bless the Friends We Love by the entire cast

Throughout the play the costumes were appropriate the acting and speaking excellent and the entire presentation devout and impressive Although there was no request for no applause little was heard the solemnity of the play itself precluding it

All the cast did well the principals—Miss Greta Morris as the Blessed Virgin Miss Sadie O Haney as St. Gabriel Miss Mary Moore as St Ariel the Angel of Death Miss Elizabeth Nuss as Dymne a lady in reduced circumstances Miss Elizabeth Vaughn as Lydia her daughter Miss Helen Fagan as Miriam the Blessed Virgin's handmaid and Miss Viva Smith as Kleona daughter of Caiaphas—being excellent Miss Kathryn Devine was St Martha Miss Margaret Vaughan St Magdalen Miss Alice Dunn Claudia and the angels were Misses Lena Healy Margaret Hallin Theresa Morgan and Irene Burns

Miss H Slattery of Providence was in charge of the hair dressing and make-ups which were noticeably good Mr James Fagan was in charge of the curtain

Rev Fathers Meenan Hines and Ryan of St Mary's Church occupied front seats at the evening performance The matinee was attended by the White Sisters Sisters of St Augustine Sisters of St Mary's convent and many children and adults

FOR NEW SCHOOLHOUSE.

Name of Rev. Charles T Brooks Suggested as a Fitting Memorial

To the Editor of the Daily News

Dear Sir In speaking of a name for the new schoolhouse to be built on Mary street it has occurred to several old Newporters that the honor might well be bestowed upon the late Rev Charles T Brooks Mr Brooks came to Newport when a very young man and passed all his subsequent life in this city For many years he was a member of the School Committee and in all ways a valuable member of this community A student of German literature and a translator of Faust for his scholarship alone he was a distinguished citizen and personally his presence was a benediction to the town

Should this proposition meet with general approval like his intimate friend George H Calvert he will have a fitting memorial and the youth of Newport a reminder of one of the most zealous in promoting the advance of sound education

EIGHT STRAIGHT FOR ROGERS.

St George's Defeated in Well-Played Game of Basket Ball by 37-8.

Senior Middles Look Like League Champions—Merry Five and Trinity Choir Boys Win Out

Before one of the largest crowds of the season in the high school gymnasium, Saturday evening Rogers defeated St George's in a well played game of basket ball by a score of 37-8 The victory made eight straight for Rogers and was received with much cheering from the large delegation of rooters out to see the first game of the reunion between the schools St George's had a number of fans who did not hesitate to make themselves heard whenever their team made a score or a particularly good play

During the first half the play kept all the spectators in high excitement throughout being marked by the great work of the Rogers quintet, who were forced to show a speedy article of ball before the St George's boys succumbed In the second however, the game dropped to a mediocre plane, the scoring being low, the shooting poor, and the playing generally lacking in zeal

St George's had a team essentially made up of blockers They were badly off form in their shooting, making only two goals from the court throughout the contest but were proficient in guarding and many times succeeded in blocking the Rogers attempts at goals Whenever St George's would try a shot at the basket the ball would generally go wild and Goodspeed also happened to be inaccurate on his foul shooting for he threw in only four of his many tries

Rogers with its ability in the back field and its clever manner of working the ball up the floor would usually score its goals on well earned tries but often the team missed shots within easy range no doubt due to the excitement In the opening minutes Rogers could not seem to start off and time after time missed an apparently sure score but the team gradually recovered itself and began to tally in the familiar quick style during the rest of the first half

St George's shifted its team about during the second half in an attempt to check the locals and in this was partly successful Rogers being held to the lowest score of the season in its own hall during a half The high school's chances at the basket were few the fast playing of Goodspeed checking many attempts but the visiting quintet's tries for goal could be counted on the fingers of both hands The playing while hard was not for the most part intentionally rough the many fouls called being for minor infractions of the rules

The scoring in the second half was exceptionally low Rogers making 10 points while St George's tallied but three Both teams appeared tired and although the ball went up and down the hall many times the tries for goal were few and the team work not gilt edged by any means

St George's began the play at a clip which argued well for a close game After two minutes or the hardest kind of work Goodspeed tallied the first point amid the loud applause of the St George's rooters Arnold soon evened the score for Rogers and then the high school team began displaying the form which has carried it towards the coveted championship pinnacle Arnold tallied the first goal after several fast passes down the hall and then Marshall flipped another through while surrounded by a number of the St George's men Cottrell came to the fore with two goals followed by one by Arnold before Goodspeed again scored for his team on one of the many foul chances

Arnold who had been playing a great game at forward, scored two more goals one on a difficult shot from the side when he was blocked Diggles jumped up on the wall flipped the ball from one hand to the other and then threw it into the basket on the feature shot of the evening which Referee McMahon would not allow Diggles was not daunted and came back during the rest of the half with three goals while McDermott registered the only field goal for his team Goodspeed tallying on another foul chance before the half ended 27-5 in favor of Rogers

Substitutions in the second half were frequent while St George's team also shifted its men around, Arnold tallied the first goal and then Marshall scored while Gates made a goal for St George's The score ended 10 3 in Rogers favor

Cottrell followed the ball closely and was very much in the game, enabling Rogers to score many of its points "Ticks" Arnold was the high scorer of the evening with 14 points to his credit besides playing a fast floor game Marshall always had the jump on his man while Lee played a great game in the back field Diggles was also good as were Denniston and Martin Goodspeed was the star for St George's while Crocker played a good game at guard. The line-up and summary

Rogers		St George
Arnold r f	l g	McDermott, Goodspeed
Cottrell l f	r g	Crocker Huntington
Marshall c	c	Leonard Hill
Diggles Martin r g	l f	Goodspeed Forbes
Lee Denniston l g	r f	Gates

Score—Rogers 37 St. George's 8 Goals from the court—Arnold 6 Cottrell 4 Marshall 3 Diggles 3 Denniston McDermott Gates Goals from foul line—Goodspeed 4 Arnold 2 Marshall Referee—McMahon Scorer—Moore Timer—Martland Time 20 minute and 15-minute halves

Before the first half of the Rogers-St George's contest, and after the game, the Seniors and Senior Middles played the second game in the class league which was won by the Senior Middles after an exciting contest 24-19 The winners played such a speedy game that many think they will be the league champions, although the Seniors are by no means vanquished while the Junior Middles are tied with the Senior Middles for the first place honors As each team plays every other three times, the final standing remains much in doubt

For a while during the first half it looked as though it would be a walk-away contest for the Senior Middles as they soon had a commanding lead before the fourth-year team tallied a field goal but the Seniors gradually cut down this big lead and when the half was over had a good chance to win They lost through inability to locate the basket

Scott scored first for the Seniors on a foul chance, and then the Senior Middles began the spurt which won them the game. Sullivan tallied two goals, followed by a goal and a foul try by Denniston, while Sullivan made two more goals the score being 11-2 before the Seniors again came to the front Scott made two shots from half the distance of the court, and then added another point on a foul try Clark began to drop them in for the Seniors, and when the half ended the Senior Middles found their lead cut down to 15-12

When playing was resumed the scoring resembled the first half inasmuch as the Senior Middles did practically all of it in the opening minutes, while the Seniors came back strong and had the monopoly during the latter part Again as in the first the Senior Middles came out ahead with a slight lead of 9 7, giving them the game 24-19

Arthur Sullivan played the best game for the winners his accurate goal throwing and hard blocking being mainly responsible for the defeat of the Seniors Denniston at forward played well during the first half while Tubley did a great amount of floor work during the second Scott and Clark did the best work for the Seniors and scored all their team's points with the exception of four The line-up and summary

FAILS TO MAKE RUN.

Automobile Combination No 1 Returned to Its Station by Hand.

Automobile Combination No 1 was returned to its station Saturday evening by hand while a crowd of boys rendered their bit of aid or exercised themselves in shouting Get a horse The machine pulled out in answer to a still at the home of Mrs Arthur Cottrell on Church street, where there was a back draft at the furnace and the occupants became alarmed When the Ones failed Combination 2 was telephoned and made a spectacular run up Thames street but she was not needed

The automobile apparatus broke a chain which was the cause of its failure to make the run When it returned to the house it was not a long job to make repairs, for things have been learned by previous experience and in addition spare links are kept on hand

WAGES TO BE COMPUTED.

Bill for Typhoid Fever Victims Not Quite Ready.

There was a meeting of Put-in-Bay typhoid fever victims at the Artillery armory Sunday afternoon called by Colonel King that an account might be made up of what the epidemic cost the members of that command The hospital and doctors bills had already been arranged for by Colonel King but the wages lost by the sick men which were needed for the support of the members of their families were not so readily computed Matters will shortly be in such form that the company will be able to put in its bill to the legislature along with the two up the river commands

"THE DANSANTE" POPULAR.

First Afternoon Tea and Dance Patronized by Many Persons.

The first afternoon tea and dance, known as a "the dansante" given under the direction of Miss Helen Melville Weaver, took place Saturday afternoon in Masonic hall and proved a popular success, fully 200 persons being present. The hall was decorated in lattice effect, with smilax and palms. The tea tables were arranged around the sides, leaving considerable space in the centre for dancing.

Among those at the tables were Mrs. John Nicholas Brown, Mrs. W. Rogers Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Harford H. W. Powel, Mrs. Cameron Mell, Winslow, Mrs. Boutelle Noyes, Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Andrews, Miss Georgianna G. King, Captain Thomas F. Dwyer, U. S. A., and Mrs. Dwyer, Mrs. William Paine Sheffield, Mrs. Livingston Hunt, Mrs. W. N. Hughes, Commander Edward H. Durell, U. S. N., and Mrs. Durell, Mr. and Mrs. John DuPuis, Paymaster Robert S. Chew, U. S. N., and Mrs. Chew, Miss Emma Stone, Lieutenant Kenneth Whiting, U. S. N., and Mrs. Whiting, Mr. Ernest Howe, Mrs. Alvah H. Sanborn and Miss Pauline Brown.

The one step and hesitation waltzes were the popular dances. Miss Weaver will have a professional exhibit of the Tango and Maxixe for the next dance, next Saturday afternoon.

The decorations were by Wilmarth and Schultz, and the tea was served by Muenchinger.

LECTURES IN PROVIDENCE.

Judge Mahoney Addresses State Knights of Columbus on Jesuits.

Judge Jeremiah P. Mahoney of this city addressed members of the state Councils of the Knights of Columbus and their friends at the weekly Sunday evening lecture in Providence. He took for his subject "The Early Jesuit Martyrs of North America." The address was under the auspices of Santa Maria Council, and arranged by the Knights of Columbus Bureau of Rhode Island.

In elaborating upon his theme, Judge Mahoney dealt with the trials, tortures, experiences and hardships of the early Jesuit fathers during the seventeenth century. He outlined in detail their work of exploration and discovery and explained the great difficulties which beset them as they worked their way farther West than any previous white men. During the address the judge related many of the experiences of Fathers Duques, Brebeuf, Daniel and Garnier, during the time they sought to plant the seed of christianity and civilization in America.

STATE TEMPERANCE WORK.

Allied Committee Plans Mass Meetings in Newport and Other Places.

The allied temperance committee of Rhode Island has been created by the various temperance bodies of the state as a result of the anti-saloon convention recently held in Columbus, Ohio, at which a movement was started to unite all temperance forces. The allied temperance committee is made up of delegates appointed by the various societies. At present its membership it as follows:

Rhode Island anti-saloon League—Rev. John Stewart, Rev. A. B. Cristy, Rev. W. G. Sargent.

Woman's Christian Temperance Union—Mrs. George F. Rooke, Miss Mary Olney, Miss Carol Hodge.

Prohibition party of Rhode Island—Rev. George E. Noble, Roscoe Phillips and Willis H. White.

A basis of union has been adopted and the first plan under it is to be a series of mass meetings in several parts of the State, beginning Monday, February 2, at Westerly, the next night at Newport, next at Woonsocket, and February 6 at Pawtucket. These are to be addressed by Professor T. Alex Cairns of Newark, N. J., who will also speak at Central Falls and in the Pawtuxet Valley Sunday, February 8, and will be the speaker at the evening session of the annual meeting of the Anti-Saloon League, Monday, February 9.

NOT SO STUPID.

Boys, like things, are not always what they seem. A school inspector having been told that a certain class was very dull, decided to test them himself. Asking the lads to give him a number, and one of them calling out "Seventy-two", he wrote on the blackboard "27". No remark coming from the class, he asked for another number and was given "Forty-eight." This he wrote on the board "84" and turned to observe any signs of intelligence. None was apparent. "Certainly a very dull lot," he thought, and once more asked one of them to give him a number. Then came a raucous young voice, "Thirty-three. Nah let's see if yer can muck abaht with that!

ARE PEOPLE TO HAVE NO VOICE?

Will Not Amendment Drop Us Back to Conditions of Seven Years Ago?

Declaration of Principles on Which was formed Committee Which Prepared Present Charter.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

The following Declaration of Principles was the platform upon which was formed the committee of well known and representative citizens who, working together for many months, prepared our present charter:

"Government, like all other earthly affairs, is an evolution. It is subject to the laws of development and progress. If based in errors of principle it may call for revolution. If rightly founded it may yet be susceptible of improvement. While essentially sound, it may be badly administered, and made the subject of many and great abuses which need reformation. In recent years there has been in the minds of our observant and reflecting citizens a growing conviction that there is at hand the time in which there should be taken in the municipal affairs of Newport some marked steps of progress and reform. Some of these steps should be taken in an amendment to the city charter; but others, and greater, and more pressing, ones should be taken in connection with matters of administration under the present charter.

"Abuses have crept into the city government. These are growing, and in connection with various shortsighted and objectionable departures from sound methods on the part of a few men have led to a serious detraction of Newport's fair fame, and a lessening of the general material prosperity which is rightly the heritage of our citizens.

"This Association of Citizens, earnestly desirous of setting aside these needy influences and seeking to harmful influences and seeking to form a nucleus about which may gather the efforts of all those who desire to see the administration of affairs in our city a pattern of good fairs in our city a pattern of good government suggest these principles as constituting a platform upon which all right-minded citizens may stand:

"1—The use of the referendum, by which is meant the right and opportunity of the citizen to vote upon all important matters affecting the property and welfare of the city. A recent marked instance of the violation of this right by the present City Council is seen in the ignoring of the petition of many citizens, and the refusal to submit to the peoples' vote the plans for the improvement of Long wharf.

"2—The careful safeguarding of all the city property and franchise rights, so that no man, or group of men, or corporation, shall be permitted to acquire or maintain occupancy or control of any of the things which rightly belong to the whole people.

"3—The conduct of all the city's business upon business principles. If there were constantly used in the affairs of the city the same diligence, economy and good management which the successful individual exercises in his private business, corresponding advantages to all would result.

"4—The well considered expenditure of the moneys of the city, so that there shall be the maintenance of the best school system, the enjoyment of good streets and sidewalks, the conservation of the public health, and the best possible police and fire protection for all. There should not be extravagant expenditure upon out-of-the-way and little used streets while thoroughfares for business traffic and frequented avenues are in a disreputable and unsafe condition.

"5—To the end that these worthy and most desirable objects may be attained, it seems of the utmost importance that there be a complete dissociation of city management from state and national politics. The conduct of the business affairs of our community need have no dependent connection with party affiliations outside.

"6—Every good citizen must feel not only that public office is a public trust" but that citizenship in itself involves great responsibility—responsibility that cannot be evaded or ignored without contributing to the forces of evil, ever alert and active for the corruption of good government.

"This association, either by nomination of its own, or through endorsement of the nomination of others as candidates at the coming election to fill the various elective offices of the city, will seek to secure the choice of the best men available for the several offices altogether irrespective of party, whether Republican or Democratic, and we ask the hearty practical co-operation and support of all those who desire to see in Newport a clean and effective administration of public affairs, and a development of a new and large prosperity in which every individual in the community shall have a share."

The spirit of this declaration was worked into the charter, and made the instrument up-to-date, in that it gave what the whole country is now clamoring for, government by the people.

Furthermore, the charter had a distinct proviso that it should not be effective unless accepted by the qualified electors. How different the conditions surrounding the proposed amendment! Nobody knows who has prepared it, but it is suspected that they are the same persons who lost the power they enjoyed under the old charter, and it is said the people are to have no voice.

Does it not seem, in this case, that evolution of government, which should ever rise to a higher plane, is dropping us back to the very conditions which obtained seven years ago?

HEARING ON CHARTER.

People of Newport to be Given Opportunity to Present Views on Changes.

Representative Max Levy has invited the judiciary committee of the house to hold a hearing on the charter revision bill in this city, in order to give the people of Newport a better opportunity to present their views on the proposed changes in the charter, and the committee has accepted the invitation. No date has been set for the hearing, of which due announcement of time and place will be given. The members of the committee will be guests of Mr. Levy during their stay here.

LAUNCHING THE CAMPAIGN.

Busy Program for This Evening in Y. M. C. A. Membership Contest.

The local Young Men's Christian Association is launching its January membership campaign today, the goal set being 200 new members. All departments will participate—the business men, seniors, grammar school and older boys. The Boys' Department will run its campaign a few days longer than the seniors, and will not close until January 31.

The program tonight will be: Supper for all team workers at 6:30, business meeting at 7:15, automobile parade at 8, Recreation League games in the gymnasium at 8 o'clock, to which the public is invited.

In recent years the Young Men's Christian Association has broadened its appeal to all classes of men. In its early history the clerical and business classes made up the bulk of the membership. This is no longer true in many industrial communities. The local Association welcomes men of all occupations, and the privileges offered are broad enough to appeal to men of different tastes and of all ages.

The Association will keep open house during the week and members will be pleased to show visiting friends the entire building and equipment.

DEVOUT AND IMPRESSIVE.

Solemn Presentation of "The Last Day of Our Ladye" at St. Augustin's.

The sacred drama, "The Last Day of our Ladye" was given before excellent audiences in the basement of St. Augustin's church Sunday afternoon and evening. The hall was attractive with palms and the stage settings were appropriate.

Before the first act a well presented pantomime, "The Holy City," was given, Mr. Morris singing the song and John Hodgson's orchestra, Stella Mullaly pianist, accompanying.

The place of the play is Jerusalem, 50 years after the birth of Christ. The drama is in three acts, the first containing three scenes, the second four, and the third one. Kleona, daughter of the high priest, Caraphas, repents of her past and is received by the Christians, Dymes and Lydia, and taken into the fold of Christianity by the Blessed Virgin. At the end of the first act Mary is told by the Angel Gabriel that her hour has come; at the end of the second, she dies, and at the end of the third act she is received up into heaven.

Between acts I and II Miss Greta Morris sang "Santa Maria," Faure, and Mr. Connolly in the afternoon sang between acts II and III. The tableaux were particularly well done, especially "Mary's Death" and "The Assumption." The program was concluded with the chorus, "God Bless the Friends We Love," by the entire cast.

Throughout the play the costumes were appropriate, the acting and speaking excellent and the entire presentation devout and impressive. Although there was no request for "no applause," little was heard, the solemnity of the play itself precluding it.

All the cast did well, the principals—Miss Greig Morris as the Blessed Virgin, Miss Sadie O'Hanley as St. Gabriel, Miss Mary Moore as St. Ariel, the Angel of Death; Miss Elizabeth Nuss as Dymne, a lady in reduced circumstances; Miss Elizabeth Vaughan as Lydia, her daughter; Miss Helen Fagan as Miriam, the Blessed Virgin's handmaid, and Miss Viva Smith as Kleona, daughter of Caiaphas—being excellent. Miss Kathryn Devine was St. Martha, Miss Margaret Vaughan St. Magdalen, Miss Alice Dunn Claudia and the angels were Misses Lena Healy, Margaret Halpin, Theresa Morgan and Irene Burns.

Miss H. Slattery of Providence was in charge of the hair-dressing and make-ups, which were noticeably good. Mr. James Fagan was in charge of the curtain.

Rev. Fathers Meenan, Hines and Ryan of St. Mary's Church occupied front seats at the evening performance. The matinee was attended by the White Sisters, Sisters of St. Augusta, Sisters of St. Mary's convent and many children and adults.

FOR NEW SCHOOLHOUSE.

Name of Rev. Charles T. Brooks Suggested as a Fitting Memorial.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

Dear Sir: In speaking of a name for the new schoolhouse to be built on Mary street, it has occurred to several old Newporters that the honor might well be bestowed upon the late Rev. Charles T. Brooks. Mr. Brooks came to Newport when a very young man, and passed all his subsequent life in this city. For many years he was a member of the School Committee, and in all ways a valuable member of this community. A student of German literature and a translator of "Faust," for his scholarship alone he was a distinguished citizen, and personally his presence was a benediction to the town.

Should this proposition meet with general approval, like his intimate friend, George H. Calvert, he will have a fitting memorial, and the youth of Newport a reminder of one of the most zealous in promoting the advance of sound education.

W. E. B.

Newport, Jan. 17, 1914.

POLICE NEWS SCARCE.

The police seem to have lost interest in helping out the newspapers these dull days. Again this morning, after two whole days, all the report given out was that of two men who Sunday pleaded guilty and paid fines and were released; also, one "busted" water pipe.

Some aid was rendered by an owner of hens who resides near Tew's court, and reports to the police that Sunday he saw a white bulldog take one of his hens and run away with it, after killing another. It looks like more expense for the city.

EIGHT STRAIGHT FOR ROGERS.

St. George's Defeated in Well-Played Game of Basket Ball by 37-8.

Before one of the largest crowds of the season in the high school gymnasium, Saturday evening, Rogers defeated St. George's in a well played game of basket ball by a score of 37-8. The victory made eight straight for Rogers and was received with much cheering from the large delegation of rooters out to see the first game of the reunion between the schools. St. George's had a number of fans who did not hesitate to make themseleves heard whenever their team made a score or a particularly good play.

During the first half the play kept all the spectators in high excitement throughout, being marked by the great work of the Rogers quintet, who were forced to show a speedy article of ball before the St. George's boys succumbed. In the second, however, the game dropped to a mediocre plane, the scoring being low, the shooting poor, and the playing generally lacking in zeal.

St. George's had a team essentially made up of blockers. They were badly off form in their shooting, making only two goals from the court throughout the contest, but were proficient in guarding, and many times succeeded in blocking the Rogers attempts at goals. Whenever St. George's would try a shot at the basket the ball would generaly go wild, and Goodspeed also happened to be inaccurate on his foul shooting, for he threw in only four of his many tries.

Rogers, with its ability in the back field and its clever manner of working the ball up the floor, would usually score its goals on well earned tries, but often the team missed shots within easy range, no doubt due to the excitement. In the opening minutes Rogers could not seem to start off and time after time missed an apparently sure score, but the team gradually recovered itself and began to tally in its familiar quick style during the rest of the first half.

St. George's shifted its team about during the second half, in an attempt to check the locals, and in this was partly successful. Rogers being held to the lowest score of the season in its own ball during a half. The high school's chances at the basket were few, the fast playing of Goodspeed checking many attempts, but the visiting quintet's tries for goal could be counted on the fingers of both hands. The playing, while hard, was not for the most part intentionally rough, the many fouls called being for minor infractions of the rules.

The scoring in the second half was exceptionally low, Rogers making 10 points, while St. George's tallied but three. Both teams appeared tired, and although the ball went up and down the hall many times, the tries for goal were few, and the team work not gilt-edged by any means.

St. George's began the play at a clip which argued well for a close game. After two minutes of the hardest kind of work Goodspeed tallied the first point, amid the loud applause of the St. George's rooters. Arnold soon evened the score for Rogers, and then the high school team began displaying the form which has carried it towards the coveted championship pinnacle. Arnold tallied the first goal after several fast passes down the hall, and then Marshall flipped another through, while surrounded by a number of the St. George's men. Cottrell came to the fore with two goals, followed by one by Arnold. Before Goodspeed again scored for his team on one of the many foul chances.

Arnold, who had been playing a great game at forward, scored two more goals, one on a difficult shot from the side when he was blocked. Diggles jumped up on the wall, dipped the ball from one hand to the other, and then threw it into the basket on the feature shot of the evening, which Referee McMahon would not allow. Diggles was not daunted and came back during the rest of the half with three goals, while McDermott registered the only field goal for his team, Goodspeed tallying on another foul chance before the half ended, 27-5, in favor of Rogers.

Substitutions in the second half were frequent, while St. George's team also shifted its men around. Arnold tallied the first goal, and then Marshall scored, while Gates made a goal for St. George's. The score ended 10-3 in Rogers favor.

Cottrell followed the ball closely, and was very much in the game, enabling Rogers to score many of its points. "Tacks" Arnold was the high scorer of the evening, with 14 points to his credit, besides playing a fast floor game. Marshall always had the jump on his man, while Lee played a great game in the back field. Diggles was also good, as were Denniston and Martin. Goodspeed was the star for St. George's, while Crocker played a good game at guard. The line-up and summary:

Rogers.	St. George.
Arnold, r. f.	l. g., McDermott, Goodspeed
Cottrell, l. f.	r. g., Crocker, Huntington
Marshall, c.	c., Leonard, Hill
Diggles, Martin, r. g.	l. f., Goodspeed, Forbes
Lee, Denniston, l. g.	r. f., Gates

Score—Rogers 37, St. George's 8. Goals from the court—Arnold 6, Cottrell 4, Marshall 3, Diggles 3, Denniston; McDermott, Gates. Goals from foul line—Goodspeed 4; Arnold 2, Marshall. Referee—McMahon. Scorer—Moore. Timer—Martland. Time 20-minute and 15-minute halves.

At the Young Men's Christian Association Saturday afternoon the Merry Five defeated the Coddington Juniors, 12 to 10, in a close and exciting game. The line-up was as follows:

Merry Five.	Coddington Juniors.
Edwards, r. f.	r. b., Connell
Edward, Braley, l. f.	r. b., Decker
Braley, Edward, c.	c., Berry
Wood, r. b.	l. f., Clarke
Sutherland, l. b.	r. f., Dugan

Score—Merry Five 12, Coddington Juniors 10. Goals from floor—Edwards 2, Edward, Braley 3, Connell, Berry, Clarke 3. Referee—Slocum. Scorer—Mitchell.

The Trinity Church choir boys defeated the Cloyne Third team Saturday afternoon by a score of 11-5. In the first half the choir boys won, 7-0, and also the second, 7-5. F. Pollit starred for the winners and R. Wood for the losers. The line-up follows:

Trinity Church Choir.	Cloyne Third.
C. Ellis, r. f.	l. b., Harris
F. Pollit, l. f.	r. b., Walker
E. Pollit, c.	c., Chindry
Hughes, l. f.	l. f., Kerr
Goddard, r. b.	r. f., Wood

Score—Trinity Church Choir Boys 11, Cloyne Third 5. Goals from floor—A. Pollit 3, F. Pollit 2, Ellis 2; Wood 2. Goals from foul—Chindry. Referee—Mr. Thompson.

FAILS TO MAKE RUN.

Automobile Combination No. 1 Returned to Its Station by Hand.

Automobile Combination No. 1 was returned to its station Saturday evening by hand, while a crowd of boys rendered their bit of aid or exercised themselves in shouting "Get a horse." The machine pulled out in answer to a still at the home of Mrs. Arthur Cottrell on Church street, where there was a back draft at the furnace and the occupants became alarmed. When the Ones failed Combination 2 was telephoned, and made a spectacular run up Thames street, but she was not needed.

The automobile apparatus broke a chain, which was the cause of its failure to make the run. When it returned to the house it was not a long job to make repairs, for things have been learned by previous experience and in addition spare links are kept on hand.

WAGES TO BE COMPUTED.

Bill for Typhoid Fever Victims Not Quite Ready.

There was a meeting of Put-in-Bay typhoid fever victims at the Artillery armory Sunday afternoon, called by Colonel King, that an account might be made up of what this epidemic cost the members of that command. The hospital and doctors bills had already been arranged for by Colonel King, but the wages lost by the sick men, which were needed for the support of the members of their families, were not so readily computed. Matters will shortly be in such form that the company will be able to put in its bill to the legislature, along with the two up-the-river commands.
